

VON HINDENBURG TAKES GERMAN HELM

SENATE UPHOLDS VETO OF GAME MEASURE

ENEMY LACKS FEW VOTES TO BEAT BLAINE

Action on $400,000 Appropriation for Conservation Causes Hot Battle

SOLON THREATENS SUIT

Would Compel Accounting Dollar for Dollar of Money "Misappropriated"

Madison—Following strictly factional lines, the state senate failed to pass the huge conservation bill carrying nearly half million dollars in conservation funds over the veto of Governor Blaine. The vote was 17-12, but the majority vote was less than two thirds necessary. It was preceded by a bitter attack on the veto made by Senator Harry Southoff of Madison.

Three senators who were expected to vote for passage over the veto proved recalcitrant. They are Senators Herman Biggins, Iron Ridge, Bert Gettelmann, Milwaukee, who voted to sustain Governor Blaine, and Senator J. H. Carroll, Glidden, who bolted the vote entirely.

Roll call on the measure: For passage, notwithstanding the objections of the governor: Daggett, Hull, Hunt, Melheim, Morris, Padway, Teasdale, Titus, Whitely, Zolaskowski, Quick, Rothe, Southoff, Severson, Smith—17.

Against passage: Barber, Barker, Biggins, Cashman, Chase, Englund, Greig, Gettelmann, Heck, Kemp, Koppel, Studenmayer—12.

Absent and not voting: Lange, Johnson, Schumann, Carroll.

Senator Gettelmann afterward explained his vote by saying he had never voted to overturn a veto of the governor. Senator Blaine said he had been assured a new appropriation bill will be introduced giving almost as much money for conservation purposes and therefore wished to "harm-onize."

Just before the vote was taken Senator Southoff delivered two speeches on the bill in which he severely reared the objections raised by Governor Blaine as "unsubstantiated" and not consistent with the facts.

THREATENS SUIT

In the course of his remarks the senator asserted he would, within the year, bring suit to compel an accounting for every dollar which he said had been "misappropriated" from the conservation fund. By "misappropriated" he said he meant wrongfully withheld from conservation uses and devoted for other uses of state government. Under the present arrangement all moneys earned by the commission are turned into the general fund and a portion reappropriated for conservation purposes.

The vetoed bill would have appropriated $245,000 for the next two years as operating expenses for the conservation department, about $67,000 for the biennium for maintenance of property and repairs, and three-fifths of the non-resident fishing licenses, which have been raised to $5 under the bill. This percentage would have provided about $122,000 annually for conservation.

BLAINE SIGNS OLD AGE PENSION BILL

Madison—Amid ceremonies in the executive office, Governor Blaine Tuesday signed the old age pension bill, using a quill plucked from an eagle. National and state officials of the fraternal order of Eagles, who sponsored the measure, witnessed the signing.

SEE NEW HOPE OF REFUNDING FRENCH DEBT

Coolidge Hopeful That "Conversations" Will Lead to Tangible Result

By Associated Press

Washington—President Coolidge hopes the conversations now progressing in Paris and Washington on the French debt settlement question will lead to some definite plan for a refunding agreement.

It apparently is too early to make positive predictions whether this hope is to be realized, but Mr. Coolidge regards the discussions as having at least entered the state of "negotiations"—a term applied in diplomacy to describe any definite and concrete international exchanges.

White House and other officials would not say Tuesday whether they regarded the statement made by Finance Minister Callaux to the French parliamentary finance committee as indicating that the negotiations had entered a more definite phase.

The American viewpoint on that subject probably will not be formed until official reports of the statements are received from Paris.

CALLAUX POLICY

Paris—Finance Minister Callaux announced Tuesday that the Dawes plan annulments that revert to France must be used for the completion of the reconstruction of the devastated regions, and for the amortization of inter-allied debts, under some form to be determined later.

Callaux made the statement to the finance committee of the chamber in outlining his financial plans.

DELAY ACTION ON INSURANCE PROBE

Madison—Assembly progressives Tuesday succeeded in delaying consideration of the resolution proposing an investigation of the differences between Attorney General Ekern and W. Stanley Smith insurance commission. The resolution will be taken up Thursday, after having been made special order for tomorrow morning.

The assembly voted, 22 to 28, to take it up at 10:20 a. m. Wednesday on motion of Assemblyman Rahlfs. Cadott, Mr. Rahlfs pointed out that the resolution provides for the house going into committee of the whole Wednesday to question Ekern and Smith about their differences over insurance matters, made public in statements by them. The rules committee, largely composed of progressives, had recommended the proposal adversely, and Chairman Price, Mauston, opposed assembly action because the insurance revision bill is spending in the senate.

COURT DENIES BOMB SLAYER SECOND TRIAL

State Declares Evidence Shows Magnuson Threatened Victims

Madison—John Magnuson, convicted in the Wood-co bomb murder case two years ago, was refused a new trial by the Wisconsin supreme court Tuesday. The high court affirmed the conviction, under which Magnuson is serving a life sentence in state prison for the slaying of Mrs. James A. Chapman.

Mrs. Chapman, wife of the chairman of the Wood county board, was killed by the explosion of a bomb in her home near Marshfield, Dec. 2, 1922. A package containing the bomb was received by the Chapmans in their mail with Christmas cards and letters. Chapman cut the string with which it was tied. The bomb exploded, pieces striking both Chapman and his wife. Mrs. Chapman died at a hospital and her husband suffered the loss of his left hand.

HARBORED GRUDGE

The fatal bomb, the state contended, was sent to the Chapman home by Magnuson because of animosity toward Chapman as a result of a drainage dispute. Chapman, a member of the Wood-co drainage board, took part in the laying out of a project known as the "Mill Creek Drainage," in the district in which Magnuson lived. Magnuson claimed he did not want drainage and that he was assessed higher than anybody else in the district, according to the testimony.

The defense entered general denials to the state's declarations and charged that the trial court had erred in permitting the introduction of testimony that Magnuson was responsible for the blowing up of a dredge belonging to the drainage district.

The evidence showed that Magnuson threatened violence to protect himself against what he thought was an injustice, the state argued. The defendant also had on his premises every facility for manufacturing the bomb, he was an expert mechanic and the word "Marshfield" on the package containing the bomb was misspelled in the same manner that the defendant, a Swede, misspelled the word. It was testified.

Capital Certain France Is Ready To Enter Debt Deal

By DAVID LAWRENCE
Copyright, 1925, by Post Pub. Co.
Washington, D. C.—Although parleys are still in the intangible state wherefrom only the vaguest inferences can be drawn, there is a decided feeling of optimism here that France and the United States will come to an understanding with reference to the payment of war debts.

There are reasons to believe that France has received assurance she can expect the fullest cooperation of the United States—both the government and the private bankers—if she can present a plan that seriously proposes to clear up her war indebtedness to this country.

Several things have contributed to the new turn of affairs. Briefly, they are:

1. Ambassador Houghtons' speech warning France as well as Germany that cooperation inside Europe means American help and that obstruction means the alienation of American aid.

2. The elevation of the French minister of finance to the cabinet, an admittedly the ablest of French statesmen on financial problems.
3. The return of England to the gold standard through "helpful processes" in which America played a major role.

The entente between British and American officials has grown to the point now that both governments realize they must at least discuss the French situation with a view to helping France to a solution. France sees England growing stronger from credit and trade position because she has made a start toward paying her debts. France may need further credits to handle her internal as well as external debts, for the rate of interest she is obliged to pay is increasing rather than diminishing. It is believed therefore, that M. Callaux's objective is as much to restore France to a favorable position among American investors as it is to keep the sentimentalities between France and the United States from being broken on the rocks of materialism.

The most gesture has been made thus far by France, but it is a significant one. The United States Government has not irritated France with untimely demands during the recent Harriot cabinet crisis but has waited patiently for the new French ministry to get into action. The initiative, it will be noted, was taken by Minister Callaux in his conversation with Ambassador Hericke, and though the communications between a finance minister and an ambassador are necessarily unofficial and informal, they may set in motion the official machinery.

The American debt funding commission has been waiting for some indication from France of a willingness to take up the subject. It is apparent that the French want America to accept a percentage of the receipts France receives from Germany annually under the Dawes plan. This alone would probably not be satisfactory for America would want the French government to continue responsibility for the payment of the war debt irrespective of whether or not particular sources of revenue are productive.

GERMANS LAND ARMS TO RIFFS

France Asks Spain for Permission to Bombard Works in Spanish Morocco

By Associated Press

Tanger—A report says the German submarine recently landed explosives, telephonic material and foodstuffs on the coast of Rif, the chieftain of which, Abd-el-Krim, is invading the French zone of Morocco. It is also stated that several Germans, dressed as Rifians, are using oriental pseudonyms, have been observed on the Rif.

Paris—France is asking Spain for authority to bombard or attack the concentrations in Spanish Morocco of the Rifian tribesmen now engaged in an invasion of the French zone. The Spanish are asked to stop the provisioning of Abd-el-Krim, the Rifian leader, through the port of Agadir.

These requests are being made in the form of "conversations," although there is no great confidence here in the results to be expected. The French feel that they are entitled to some help from Spain in the present situation, as they say they are placed at a great disadvantage in repelling the Rifian tribesmen through the ability of the tribesmen to make all preparations for attack while safely on the Spanish side of the border.

A conscription has been established on news dispatches of French and foreign agencies and newspapers dealing with the Moroccan operations. It was announced Tuesday.

ALLIES REFUSE TO CONGRATULATE NEW GERMAN PRESIDENT

Paris—The French, British, Italian and Belgian governments have decided to omit the usual formal congratulations to a newly elected chief of state in the case of Field Marshal von Hindenberg, Germany's president-elect. In view of the fact that his name is still on the list of those charged with war crimes. The four powers, it is said, will supply forward a brief acknowledgment when notified of his assumption of the presidency.

Field Marshal Paul von Hindenberg takes official oath as the new president of Germany amid cheers and jeers.

The oath taken by the president was as follows: "I swear to devote all my energies to the welfare of the German people, to increase their prosperity, to protect them from injury, to preserve the constitution and laws of the commonwealth, to perform my duties conscientiously and to deal justly with all." To this he added the religious affirmation "so help me God," thereby setting a new precedent for German presidents.

The president-elect left the chancellors' palace where he had spent the night at about 11:45 a. m. for the Reichstag building, where the inaugural ceremony was held.

SOVIET WORRIES POLISH ENVOYS AT ARMS PARLEY

Declare Border Nations Will Not Be Bound Unless Russia Is Tractable

By Associated Press

Geneva—Soviet Russia, Tuesday was made the crux of the situation faced by the international conference for control of the traffic in arms. Poland filed an amendment to the proposed convention to the effect that the countries bordering on Russia would not be bound by the agreement unless the Soviet government approved of it.

Russia refused to attend the present conference, giving as the reason that its purpose amounted to interference in domestic affairs.

Most of the forenoon session, however, was devoted to the question of the sale of armaments to governments. Theodore E. Burton of Ohio, heading the American delegation told the conference the United States favored the utmost publicity of statistics of arms shipments.

"From my seclusion in Hanover," continued the president, "I have watched the development of the wehrmacht. Straight ahead and undeterred it has led the German people on the only road upon which reconstruction was possible, namely, through hard discipline and loyalty in every detail to accomplishment and success.

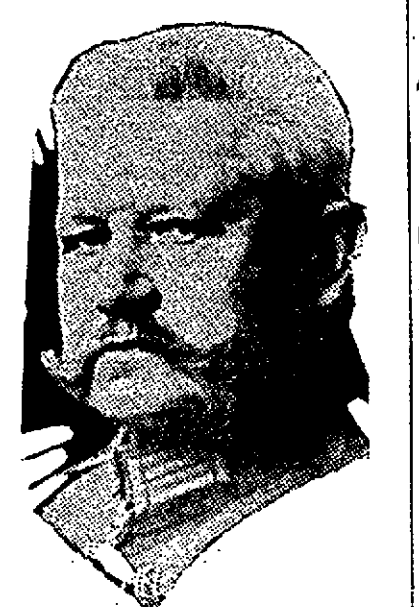

"It is built upon the old principle of duty and sacrifice. Its activity is intended, for the present to establish future, for the service of the people and the state, true to its symbol and the tasks imposed by the constitution.

"With unwavering faith they rely upon German wehrmacht in my work for the fatherland's peace and prosperity."

WEAR COLORS

The inauguration took place in the presence of the members of the reichstag, whose Socialist members wore red carnations. Many of the other Republican members wore the Republican colors. The entire diplomatic corps was present.

The president-elect, in excellent voice, was heard throughout the large chamber.

Herr Loeb had addressed the field marshal briefly expressing the hope that during his administration the economic reconstruction of Germany which had been begun under President Ebert would be continued, as well as the policy of mutual understanding in the formulas, which had been successfully initiated so that the terrible consequences of the war would gradually be removed.

In acknowledging Herr Loeb's greetings, President Hindenberg referred especially to the "Republican constitution of Aug. 11, 1919," adding, "The reichstag and the reich president belong together, as both are elected by direct vote of the people."

GIVE THREE CHEERS

The ceremony concluded with President Loeb calling for three cheers for the German republic. These the deputies gave enthusiastically, rising from their seats.

Every feature of the inauguration program was carried out smoothly. The ceremony of swearing in the president before the reichstag was of especial impressiveness.

After the conclusion of the program in the reichstag, President Hindenberg left the chamber, accompanied by all the cabinet ministers. Then in the presence of a large crowd outside the reichstag building he took a salute from a regiment of reichswehr while the crowd chanted "Deutschland, Deutschland."

Its terms have not been made public, but it is known to be a compromise between the French and British views.

President Is Escorted by Cavalry to Tune of "Deutschland Ueber Alles"

Berlin—Field Marshal von Hindenberg was inaugurated president of Germany Tuesday.

Except for a brief shout of protest from the Communists, the inauguration was carried out according to schedule, the field marshal, being sworn into office by the Reichstag president, Paul Loeb, before a crowded house.

The oath taken by the president was as follows: "I swear to devote all my energies to the welfare of the German people, to increase their prosperity, to protect them from injury, to preserve the constitution and laws of the commonwealth, to perform my duties conscientiously and to deal justly with all." To this he added the religious affirmation "so help me God," thereby setting a new precedent for German presidents.

The president-elect left the chancellors' palace where he had spent the night at about 11:45 a. m. for the Reichstag building, where the inaugural ceremony was held.

TAKES FAMOUS BOLT

His route lay through the Wilhelmstrasse and Unter den Linden by way of the central arch of the Brandenburg gate, which was formerly reserved for the emperor and through which also President Ebert's funeral procession passed, to the short street connecting with the reichstag building. At the door of the reichstag building, von Hindenberg was greeted by the vice president and the administrative director, who conducted him to the waiting Herr Loeb.

At noon von Hindenberg, accompanied by Loeb entered the chamber, which was bare of decorations except around the president's table. Behind the president's chair hung a huge tapestry bearing the German coat of arms, which was incased in laurel wreaths interwoven with the Republican colors of black, red and gold.

The president's table, at which von Hindenberg stood while being sworn into office, was covered with a large Republican flag.

"Down with monarchists! Long live the soviet republic!" was the shout raised by the Communist deputies as the president-elect entered the reichstag chamber. They withdrew immediately afterward and the rest of the ceremony proceeded without a hitch.

DECIDES WIDOW CAN'T COLLECT

Supreme Court Reverses Decision Giving Mrs. Olga Kray Accident Indemnity

Mrs. Olga Kray is deprived of compensation from Combined Locks Paper Co. for the accidental death of her husband sometime ago, by a decision of the supreme court announced Tuesday at Madison. The court reversed the decision of Judge E. Ray Stevens, formerly of Dane-co circuit court, who granted the widow $3,700 compensation.

This case as filed with the supreme court was known as Combined Locks Paper Co. and Aetna Insurance Co. vs. Wisconsin Industrial commission and Olga Kray.

Mr. Kray was killed by a Chicago and Northwestern train when a truck he was driving while employed by Emil Buss, drayman, was struck at a railroad crossing. His widow accepted $2,500 from the railroad company in settlement following the death.

Application was made to the industrial commission by Mrs. Kray for compensation from the employers of her husband. Buss carried no compensation insurance but Combined Locks Paper Co. was asked to pay because it was held that Mr. Buss was a contractor engaged by the paper firm.

The industrial commission conducted hearings in the case and then granted Mrs. Kray indemnity of $5,200 because of the death of her husband. The paper company and Aetna Insurance company, which had the mill insured, refused to settle on this basis and appealed the case to Dane-co circuit court. Judge Stevens sustained the commission in part by granting $3,700 as settlement. The case then was appealed to the supreme court and the former ruling reversed.

JOURNALISM GOOD FOR NERVOUS PROSTRATION

London—"Journalism is a nerve-racking profession," Lord Burnham told the guests at a newspaper press fund concert.

"Although our profession," he continued, "has a great deal of attraction superior to any other, it involves a vast amount of wear and tear. There are very few who do not suffer from it. Sometimes, looking back at the years of the war I am surprised that we were not broken down by the anxieties and responsibilities we bore. Those anxieties and responsibilities may not be recognized so much in Downing Street as we know them in Fleet Street. You know the stress and strain we went through in our different capacities to serve the commonwealth to the best advantage in its hour of desperation."

LEGION STARTS PREPARING FOR NEXT CAMPAIGN

Executive Committee Meets to Lay Plans for $5,000,000 Endowment Fund

The executive committee of the American Legion will meet at 6:15 Tuesday evening in the Blue Room of the Conway hotel to formulate plans for the National Legion endowment drive. This campaign is being organized to raise $5,000,000, the income of which will be used for the support of orphans of World war veterans.

The general plan for the use of the money is essentially a home-providing one. There will be no institution life for the orphans in the proposed plan. The children will be placed in groups in various communities throughout the country under the care of carefully selected women, preferably widows of veterans. The orphans will attend local schools in the communities in which they are living, and will know real home life.

A chairman of the executive committee will be selected at Tuesday's meeting to fill the vacancy created by Henry Pettigrew's resignation. Probably the Memorial program of the legion also will be discussed at this time.

FORM AUXILIARY AT HORTONVILLE

Dunn, president of Appleton auxiliary, presided during the organization and Mrs. Leonard Mansko, New London auxiliary president, assisted in the plans.

Kirk of the meaning of the auxiliary to the women, and Mrs. E. Louise Ellis on the use of the flag. Mrs. Albert Kessler and Mrs. Joseph Treiber also were with the Appleton delegation.

New London's legion bugle and drum corps played at the meeting. There were about 100 persons in attendance.

4TH WARD VOTES LAND ON WHICH TO PUT SCHOOL

One Dissenting Vote Against Transferring School Site to City

The city of Appleton will be able to build a junior high school in the Fourth district this summer as the result of action taken by Fourth district voters at a special school meeting Monday night in Fourth district school. The district voted to "sell" to the city of Appleton a part of the property on which the present school is located as a site for the junior high school. The "purchase price" was stipulated as $1. The property transferred is in the rear of the present school building.

The action was taken on motion of Alderman R. F. McGillan and only one dissenting vote was cast.

A. C. Rule was temporary chairman of the meeting.

Before the motion was put, talks were given by Ben J. Rohan, city superintendent of schools, and A. C. Bosser, city attorney. Mr. Rohan explained the necessity of erecting a junior high school in the Fourth ward and Mr. Bosser detailed the method of legally transferring the property to the city of Appleton. It was announced that plans for the new school had been approved by the Industrial commission at Madison. Contracts for equipment of the junior high schools, including the Fourth ward institution, are being sent out Tuesday to be signed.

C. OF C. BOARD WILL MAKE PROGRAM PLANS

Further discussion of the major program which will be undertaken by the chamber of commerce this year will be discussed by the board of directors at a meeting at 7:15 Wednesday evening in its offices. The retail trades committee has had its organization meeting and is ready to recommend the activities it will undertake. All other standing committees are to meet soon to do likewise.

Police have obtained a partial solution of the thefts of money at the First ward school through confessions of a girl eight years old. She admitted taking a few coins here and there. The police also have other clues which are expected to develop. The total sum taken was about $5. Chief George T. Prim states.

PENSION EXPENSES LARGER THAN BUDGET

A meeting of the Outagamie-co public welfare and mothers' pension committee will be held at 10 o'clock Wednesday morning at the office of Fred V. Heinemann, county judge, at the courthouse.

Among the matters which will be taken up by the committee is the fact that the average monthly budget of the mothers' pension department is being over run about $500 per month and steps will be taken to remedy this matter. There are more applications for mothers' pensions than ever before according to Judge Heinemann. Members of the committee are Frank Appleton, Oneida; Charles Wendt, Kaukauna; David Hodgins, Hortonville.

HOLD LUNCHEON HERE AS PART OF CHURCH JUBILEE

Episcopalians Also Will Make Pilgrimage to Mission at Oneida in June

One of the sessions during the week in June in which the Fond du Lac Episcopal diocese will celebrate its golden jubilee is to be held in Appleton, according to the program which has been made public. It will be a luncheon at 1 o'clock on the afternoon of Wednesday, June 10. Speakers will come here to relate the history of the diocese.

Festivities start at the diocesan cathedral at Fond du Lac on Monday, June 8, with a meeting of the council and a devotional service in the evening. Communion will be offered at 7:30 Tuesday morning solemn eucharist at 10 o'clock and a luncheon at 1 o'clock.

AT OSHKOSH, RIPON
Remaining activities will be held in other cities of the diocese. There will be a meeting at Ripon at 4 o'clock Tuesday afternoon, June 9, a dinner at Oshkosh at 6 o'clock and evening services there at 7:30. Communion and devotions will be held there at 7:30 and 9 o'clock, respectively, Wednesday morning.

Appleton will be the next place where the luncheon is to be held at 1 o'clock. The services then are transferred to Green Bay, where dinner will be held at 6 o'clock and evening services at 7:30. Communion will be celebrated there at 7 o'clock Thursday morning.

On Thursday morning, June 11, Episcopalians from all over the diocese will gather at Oneida to celebrate the founding of the Episcopal mission there 100 years ago. This was the first church in Wisconsin of the whole northwest. Oneida is considered the oldest and most important mission in the American Episcopal church. Missionary work was done among the Oneida Indians from the seventeenth century by the societies of the old church in England. The Oneida New York about 1702 and the tribes came to Green Bay in 1821, led by the Rev. Eleazar Williams, the "Lost Dauphin," who was commissioned as their missionary by Bishop Hobart.

MASS AT ONEIDA
Solemn mass is to be held at the Oneida mission at 10 o'clock on the morning of June 11, followed at 1 o'clock by a basket luncheon. The boys' and girls' choir will sing in the afternoon. Sheboygan Falls on Friday morning and Plymouth that evening. The Fond du Lac diocese was organized by a small band of priests and laymen 80 years ago, with Bishop Brown at the head. The church has grown in the area from 18 priests to 45 and from 1,341 members to 6,000. The value of the property now is about $1,367,000. First headquarters were in a frame building at Pollett and Bannister-sts., Fond du Lac, where Fond du Lac Children's home now stands. The present St. Paul Cathedral is considered one of the finest in the United States.

A part of the jubilee festivities will be the raising of a fund of $50,000 to provide a new home for the bishop of the diocese at Fond du Lac, the Rev. Reginald H. Weller. His present home is not considered in keeping with the cathedral.

Other highway funds show balances as follows: County and town aid, $9,943.68, snow removal, $3,102.58, county-state road and bridge, $2,453.31, garage, $341.61, state patrol, $932.35, emergency bridge $3,430.88.

Calo—The cocaine habit among Egyptians has grown to such an alarming extent that the commandant of the local police has issued an appeal to the public to assist him in keeping down the evil.

The Egyptian nation, this official declares, is destroying itself through the drug habit, which is demoralizing the youth of Egypt and filling the hospitals and prisons. He deplores the absence of statutes dealing adequately with the evil and asserts that if the laws were made more rigorous and received more support from the public, Egypt could yet be delivered.

Outagamie-co Fish and Game Protective association received its first shipment of ring-necked pheasant eggs Saturday and immediately distributed them among several farmers who had volunteered to attend to the hatching and brooding of the chicks. These eggs were ordered by the association as an experiment in propagating pheasants in the forests of Outagamie-co. A number of sportsmen here favored getting mature birds, but none of the firms that furnish wild game was able to make de-

HAMMERING AWAY FOR ECONOMY

President Coolidge may be averse to members of his official family engaging in political discussions during the summer, but he loses no opportunity to forward his program of further tax reduction and economy. Secretary Mellon the other day made an important speech in the South in which he renewed his well-known proposals for lowering the maximum surtax rates, together with a radical reduction in rates or elimination of the federal estate tax. The secretary stated that while it would not be appropriate for him to set forth a "definite program" until the treasury makes its recommendations to the ways and means committee "in the light of income then available," he felt sure that the margin of surplus would be ample for these reforms. He also made an effective plea for the abolishment of tax exempt securities, on the theory that this policy would cause a large amount of dormant capital to seek investment in productive enterprise.

All indications are that the administration's proposal to reduce taxes will be justified by the accumulating surplus, which now promises to be approximately $100,000,000. The treasury counts on a cut of $60,000,000 in expenditures through additional retirement of war bonds, and a total reduction in the budget of $300,000,000.

The country may or may not consider publicity about tax reductions in the nature of politics, and if so as inconsistent with the president's professed desire to drop politics during the summer, but it has an invigorating effect upon the business mind and the plans and expectations of those engaged in commerce and industry. The more the president's policies in this respect are studied, the more the public will be convinced, we believe, that they are to distinguish his administration. No one factor can contribute so much to the restoration of good business conditions in the United States and their maintenance as a reduction of the top-heavy tax load every form of production is now carrying. When we get out from under this burden it cannot help but have an effect comparable to that of untieing the bound up arms of an expert swimmer.

The president is determined to hammer away at governmental economy and tax reduction. Nothing can side-track him, and nothing should. If this is politics, it is the kind of politics the people like to hear, and which those who condemn it are free to make the most of.

INVESTIGATE RAILROAD FAILURE

Senator Lenroot says there is no reason to doubt the honesty and efficiency of the management in recent years, notwithstanding the fact that this is the period in which matters have gone from bad to worse. He says there are rumors that a receivership was not necessary, but it is difficult to understand from the showing made by the application how this step could have been avoided. Whatever the facts, there is only one way in which the stockholders can know with any certainty what has happened, and why their investments have resulted so disastrously, and that is by bonafide investigation.

Mr. Lenroot makes one point that is worth referring to in connection with the receivership, and that is that it disproves the statements of opponents of the Esch-Cummings law that the act guarantees to railroads a 6 per cent return on the value of their property. Had that been true, as he suggests, there would have been no default in interest. What the railroads are permitted to earn on their investment and what they are capable of earning are two different things. The government does not guarantee any return. There has been quite as much misrepresentation of the Esch-Cummings law as there has been of the railroads themselves. In due time the public will learn the facts for itself.

VARIATIONS IN THE NORTHWEST

Various explanations are given for the collapse of the St. Paul, the principal one of which is the electrification of a part of its system in the Northwest. It is possible, of course, that there have been other factors aside from unwise policies of development. An investigation which went to the bottom of its financial affairs over a long period of years, together with the character of management it has received might bring to light some interesting facts. If it would be possible to have an investigation that was bonafide and could be removed entirely from politics, that would also help.

JOB FOR A GENERATION

During national forest week the newspaper-reading public was informed that when the United States came into the possession of the white man it had primitive forests covering more than 800,000,000 acres and that today it has only 138,000,000 acres of virgin forest, 250,000,000 acres of second growth timber or young growth and 81,000,000 acres of land which have produced nothing but brush fires since they were stripped of their trees.

These statistics convince the average person, possessing an average amount of foresight, that national forest week should be extended to cover fifty-two weeks in a year and for every year until the production of new timber in this country equals or exceeds the consumption of virgin timber.

Upon the trees man depends for his lumber, often his water supply, many of his pastimes and for much of nature's beauty. Just 42 per cent of the American forest primeval has survived the woodman's ax. It is within the power of this century to restore to the next century much of this natural heritage of which the last century robbed the present.

Trees will begin to grow faster than they are cut down as soon as the public learns the valuable habit of planting a new tree for every tree cut down and the owners of barren land are taught that trees are a crop to be planted and harvested like other crops.

TODAY'S POEM

"FO' ME"

There's a wee little fellow I want you to meet,
Just a regular type of a boy. Behavior is good, and his manner is sweet, and he knows the full meaning of joy.

His name is Jess' Jack, and he's growin' on three.
He's a picture of health, he's so ruddy. When mother's around he's her helper, you see, and with dad, he's a pal and a buddy.

You never would think that a wee tot like this Would be usin' his mind every day. But Jack never lets any chance go amiss—you can tell by the things he will say.

For instance, when daddy comes home every mornin',
Little son is as cute as can be. He'll pat father's pockets, then say, in delight, "Say, what have you got fo' me?"

That's just like a youngster—expectin' a treat,
Then, takin' what comes with a smile. But tots are so spirit-dispelling and sweet, that they make wee surprises worth while.

HOW TO CONTRACT YOUR STUMMICK

There are many truths, walls a damsel from Duluth, the rhyme of which was not premeditated, in the report that the stomach contracts as a result of dieting, and that it therefore can never again hold the same amount of food that it formerly held.

There is only a faint trace of truth in it, unfortunately, for if it were true to any considerable extent we should all live longer, leaner and happier. If a fellow could cut down his capacity just by fasting a little or restricting the load for a few days, that would be an attainment well worth the agony.

Once in a while the stomach which has been dilated or expanded to accommodate a whale of a meal or a steady elephantine diet refuses to contract again to its normal dimensions or capacity, at least until the doctor has tinkered with it for a spell or the surgeon has embedded a design on the greater curvature. But this is a rule which positively does not work both ways. If you do manage to contract your stummick appreciably, don't you worry, it will come back again and leave no tale behind it. Even professional fasters who go for weeks without any food find no difficulty, when the fast is finished, in stowing full rations.

But there is a way to contract the capacity of the stomach or at least to attain that desirable sensation of fullness without actually stuffing or overloading the stomach. In other words there is a way to contract the appetite when the appetite is abnormally large.

Of course various practices injurious to health tend to impair the appetite, but we are concerned with healthful procedures only. It is terrible to be fat, but better fat than sick or quite dead. Where there's a reasonable amount of fat there is hope, and where there is more there is also faith and credulity, I find. When a woman wonders whether she can really reduce by putting salts in her bath or wearing some special kind of compression, apparatus, I conclude she must be pretty fat. When she actually attempts to reduce by such magic, I know she is terribly fat. And when she declares she has reduced via the rubber garment route or the body nash route (suppressing the fact that she adhered to a slim diet or indulged in some unwonted exercise while wearing the elastic corset or wallowing in the medicated bath) I pronounce her case hopeless.

Intra-abdominal pressure, like blood pressure, remains constantly within certain limits in health. In various departures from health the intra-abdominal pressure falls below the normal. For instance, if the belly muscles (that is, the muscles in the front wall of the abdomen) are paralyzed or greatly weakened, intra-abdominal pressure falls. When intra-abdominal pressure is low, one has to overfill the stomach in order to attain that desirable sense of comfortable fullness or satisfaction of the appetite. Thus many a misguided individual who is already overnourished is led into the habit of overeating. Particularly is this true of the woman who unnecessarily wears corsets or other artificial supports—she puts her own muscles out of business that way, and the muscles of course grow weaker.

On the other hand, there are various pathological conditions associated with lowered intra-abdominal pressure, in which corsets or similar appliances are of distinct remedial value. We are speaking of ordinary healthy folk, however. They suffer only harm from corsets.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

Running Ear.

You stated some time ago that a running ear could be cured with Dakin's solution. I have been afflicted with a running ear since I was 7 years old. I am 19 now. There is a foul odor from it. (C. A. A.)

Answer—I do not recall having suggested Dakin's solution. It might be of value, however. I have suggested the use of a drop or two of a saturated solution of boric acid in alcohol two or three times daily for a period of a few weeks. That means all the boric acid the ounce or two of grain alcohol will dissolve. A physician of considerable experience tells me that the use of the alcohol alone, without the boric acid, seems to clear up some cases of chronic running ear associated with a foul odor.

TIME WASTING

Society Women in Round of "Social Duties" Are Often Busy Doing Nothing

Fred C. Kelly, in Harper's. Society women—by devoting many hours a day to endless rounds of social "duties"—have long been rightly regarded almost as models in the difficult art of busily doing nothing. Even today—when many other avenues, including politics, offer an outlet for women's spare time—"social" activities are still the most convenient means of organized wastefulness.

In Washington women have cleverly devised customs that consume an astonishing amount of time without any sensible purpose whatever. It is not uncommon for a society woman to drive about all afternoon and deposit as many as 150 calling cards at homes of other women, with no thought or intention of meeting, face to face, the women thus called upon.

This system has endured for a long time. It served its purpose as an ingenious plan for using up women's time in a period when any useful occupation for a woman high in the social and economic scale was considered more or less disgraceful.

But in more recent years colleges for women have greatly complicated the whole time-wasting problem by putting notions into feminine heads. As women have learned more about the great world in which they live, many have come to imagine an element of utility in the ordinary prescribed system of social gayeties.

Something in human nature makes us oppose utility. We like to feel that we are being fairly essential.

Hence women have been forced to try wasting time a little less obviously, by means of charities, welfare work, uplift movements, tag days and what not.

They have made deliberate efforts to appear not to be wasting their time. I have known society women in the name of charity to pay $1 for an afternoon at bridge.

U. S. RAILROADS 100 YEARS OLD IN 1928

From The Western Way In News.

On July 4, 1828, the steam railroad will have been in existence in the United States 100 years, for it was on July 4, 1828, that Charles Carroll, the last surviving signer of the Declaration of Independence, laid the first stone of the first railroad, the Baltimore and Ohio.

Today there are more than 400,000 miles of single track railroad in the United States. About 2,000,000 persons are employed directly by the railroads. One family out of every six is dependent on the railroads for its living.

Almost 1,000,000 persons own stock of railroads directly, and if holders of insurance policies and depositors in savings banks, part of the assets behind which are railroad securities, be taken into account, probably two-thirds of all the inhabitants of the country are indirectly owners of railroads.

No such rapid development had ever taken place in the history of mankind before—in fact, it is said that in the realms of discovery and invention greater strides were made in the last century than in all ages preceding.

In 1860 every first-class hotel in New York advertised that it had one bath tub—not for every room, but for the entire hotel.

Q. What selections were played by the Marine Band at the Inaugural Ceremonies? L. V. G.

A. They were: "The President," Tregina; "The New America," Michaud; "Voice of our Nation," Santelmann; "American Patrol," Meacham; "National Emblem," Bagley; "Songs of the Old Folks," arranged by Lake; "Pomp and Circumstance," Edgar; the President arrived and left the platform the Marine Band played the four flourishes and "Hail to the Chief."

Q. Would the meat of a chicken, which had been chloroformed, be fit to eat? B. G.

A. The Bureau of Animal Industry says that chloroform would not be detrimental to the flesh of a fowl to be eaten. However, it is far preferable to have the birds bled. After chloroform is administered it paralyzes the blood stream and, therefore, this can not be done.

Q. What makes telegraph wires hum? L. W.

A. Humming of wires is caused by the wind. The wire has a natural frequency of vibration the same as a piano string and the wind sets it vibrating. The fundamental frequency is too low to be heard, but some of the harmonies are audible. The fundamental is given by the wire vibrating as a whole, the harmonies by the vibrating in sections; many of these are ordinarily set up at the same time.

Q. Can an Army officer take four months leave at once? L. C. N.

A. An officer in the Army is entitled to thirty days leave each year. This leave may accrue to the amount of four months.

Q. How warm does it get on Mars? W. L.

During the past opposition Dr. Cohearts of the Bureau of Standards made measurements of the temperatures on Mars. He found the planet warmer than formerly supposed, its daytime temperatures being at times as high as 40 degrees to 60 degrees F. Photographs were made by red and by violet light. Both sets of data indicate a denser atmosphere than had previously been assumed.

Q. When was the typewriter invented? M. B.

A. The first typewriter of which there is any record was patented in England in 1714. In 1829 the first American typewriter, called a typographer, was patented by W. A. Burt. In 1844 and 1846 typewriting machines were invented in England, which, like many of the early machines, were designed primarily for the use of the blind and so produced embossed characters. About 1867 Charles Latham Sholes began to experiment on the construction of a typewriter and from this the Remington had its origin. The first crude model was completed early in 1868.

Q. Why are peacock feathers considered unlucky? H. M.

A. There have been various theories concerning the origin of the superstition relating to peacock feathers. According to the Mohammedan tradition, the peacock and the snake were placed at the entrance to paradise to give warning of danger. Satan seduced both and subsequently they both shared his punishment. According to another authority, peacock feathers were usually used as funeral emblems, hence the belief that they cause bad luck.

Q. What is a person's normal temperature? H. De B.

A. For practical purposes the normal mouth temperature is 98.6 degrees Fahrenheit. Violent exercise may increase temperature in the normal range to as much as 104 degrees Fahrenheit, while hot vapor baths in certain individuals can produce one of 107 degrees Fahrenheit. Diathermy can cause very high local temperature; ordinary exercise, warm baths, the act of digestion, nervous states, etcetera, may cause slight temperature elevation. In general a normal temperature may be said to vary from 97.5 degrees or 98 degrees to 99.5 degrees.

THE TALE OF A WISE PRINCE

In the Golden Age lived Veddar. King of Marabou, the richest city in all the land of Rez. But age had dimmed his eyes, for his years were great.

Two sons had he seeming equal in the ways of manliness, so that great trouble fell upon Veddar as to who should reign in his stead.

Then on a day he called both his sons unto him that he might try their judgment, saying: "To that one of you twin who on the seventh sunset from this brinketh me the finest golden bowl in Marabou, I will make a gift of the fellest of my horses." So would he read of each son's worth.

Thereon the two sons drew lots for half the goldsmiths in that city.

Day after day went Roti, the elder, to the Bazaar demanding of every goldsmith to be shown all his work. But the sight of so great a multitude of bowls made him in firm in the choice of one.

At last, in the blindness which fate seeking had brought him, he seized the bowl which lay nearest to his hand.

Not so Halbur, his brother. He called to him a merchant whom he had learned to respect of old. "Go thou," he said, "to that one of the goldsmiths who has the finest bowl of bowls made him in firm in the choice of one."

On the seventh day he cast his eye over the bowls of the merchant's skill so that they best showed forth their beauty. And quickly he found a bowl surpassing fine.

Then at sundown the two brothers came unto the King. The elder chose the bowl of the merchant's skill so that they best showed forth their beauty. And quickly he found a bowl surpassing fine.

Moral: Like Halbur in the Golden Age, the woman of today must be a wise seeker. The touchstone of beauty in her home is the Wallpaper. To aid her in the choice of the loveliest Wallpaper she must seek expert guidance.

She does not want to be put in many minds by being shown many pattern books. She needs only one series from which the seeing eye of the merchant of long experience has eliminated all that is tasteless.

That is why the modern Mrs. Halbur does not say, "I want to see some Wallpapers." She says, "Show me the New 80" Wonder Papers—Tough Cases and Polychromes." You can buy them at the Advance Wall Paper Store, J. C. Hanson, Proprietor. Complete line of artistic wall paper guaranteed in every respect. Moderate prices. 1208 N. Onida St. Phone 354, adv.

SUNDAY SCHOOL WORKERS TO MEET AT KAUKAUNA

About 100 Appleton persons are ex- pected to attend the County Sunday School convention which will be held in Kaukauna on Wednesday. The meeting will begin at 9:30 Wednesday morning and will be held in the Meth- odist church. A general invitation has been extended to all of the Pro- testant churches of this city to attend. The Rev. J. L. Menzner, county president, is in charge of the program for the day. He is chairman of the Appleton committee which will work in conjunction with the county workers.

WILLIAMS TELLS ALIENS OF CITY GOVERNMENT

Twenty-two future citizens who will graduate from the citizenship class at the vocational school in June heard E. L. Williams, city clerk, ex- plain the system of city government Monday evening in the school audi- torium. Most of the members of the graduating class will receive their final papers when they graduate. Mr. Williams devoted the entire class period to an explanation of the city's administration, telling how taxes are collected and spent. The students were deeply interested and joined in discussion after the address.

STAGE And SCREEN

"SALLY" SCORES HIT FOR COLLEEN MOORE

All the charm that marked Zieg- field's stage production of "Sally" is caught and enhanced in First Nation- al's screen version of the same play, with Colleen Moore in the title role. "Sally" opened yesterday at the Elite Theatre. It is a colorful and de- lightful story, beautifully photographed and "staged," and the direction of Alfred E. Green is worthy of the highest praise.

Colleen Moore established herself beyond question with such successes as "Flaming Youth" and "So Big," but in "Sally" she rises to even greater heights. Her role of the forlorn little drudge in the orphanage, who through sheer force of her own char- acter rises to the fame of a great dan- cer, affords the star wide oppor- tunities for the exercise of her tal- ents. Miss Moore has long shown a decided penchant for boyishish com- edy, and this she indulges in to the fullest. She also takes advantage of those moments of poignant pathos which are provided her and likewise reveals an ability to "get her teeth into" a bit of real drama when the plot tosses it her way.

STRONG CAST AND TWO STARS IN DRAMATIC FILM

"Moral Fibre," in which Corinne Griffith appears and which will be the attraction at New Bijou theatre on Wednesday and Thursday is an adap- tation of a story by Harrison Goadby. William B. Coutney wrote the scen- ario and the production was filmed under the direction of Webster Camp- bell.

The excellent cast includes Cath- erine Calvert, Harry C. Browne, who plays opposite Miss Griffith; William J. Parks and Alice Conard.

Miss Griffith, who is steadily adding to her popularity by the various roles she portrays, ventures into a new field in "Moral Fibre." Throughout the early scenes she appears as a girl of fifteen, knee skirted and sunbon- neted and with all the abandon of youth.

Later, a lapse of five years shows her as a well poised young woman, making her way alone in the world and intent on one purpose—the tak- ing of an eye for an eye and a tooth for a tooth, from a married woman, who, in the spirit of fun, flirted with the young girl's brother and brought misfortune upon him.

A pretty little love story develops during the action of the play, which serves to teach the heroine that vengeance is not hers to take.

The play is full of action through- out and calls for elaborate sets, both interior and exterior, and a variety of gowns.

THE SHOWING PASS

One of the most pretentious scenes ever staged in American theatrics will be seen at Appleton Theatre when the "Passing Show" comes from the New York Winter Garden Wed- nesday, May 20. It has become known as "The Living Chandeliers," but is programmed under the title of "A Supper Dansant During the Second Empire in Paris." It is the finale of the first act and gets its commoner title through the fact that living figures are used as a part of the decorations of the ballroom.

A massive chandelier on which four girls are draped, or rather, un- draped, in full figure is the center and chief part of the picture. Direct- ly beneath is a huge bowl, supported aloft by three girls while on each side are electricians about which are grouped other girls. With lights playing on the scene from various angles, the scene is brilliantly effec- tive.

The whole scene was designed by William Thomas, chief electrician for the New York Winter Garden com- pany who elaborated it from a small pattern copied from a similar feature in a continental revue. He incorpor- ated several new ideas, spent money prodigiously on improvements, ar- ranged new ideas for the scene, work- ed out a cylindrical perspective and invented a new safety belt which is worn by the young women who dees- rate the chandelier and who are raised many feet in the air.

He estimates there is a total of 28,000 pieces of prism glass used in the construction. The centre chan- deller is twenty feet in height and 12 feet in width.

A powerful story of the romantic gold-rush days of California of an innocent girl and one good man swept out to sea in a filmsy river craft with a human cargo that is literally "the scum of the earth."

How they fight their way out and change the charac- ters of their scoundrelly shipmates is worked out in a picture of intense appeal.

In this, Wallace Beery, of "Robin Hood" and "Sea Hawk" fame, has the greatest role of his career.

DAIRYMAN MUST TURN TO COOPERATIVE SELLING

MACKLIN TELLS GRANGE OF PLAN IN NEW ZEALAND

Shows How Unworthy Producer Keeps Down Farmer Who Is Working for Quality

BY W. F. WINSEY
Two hundred dairymen attended a Wisconsin Cheese Producers' federation meeting in the South Greenville Grange hall Saturday night and listened to addresses on the failure of individual dairy production and marketing and the advantages of cooperation in both these important lines of farm activities.

The speakers of the evening were J. W. Armstrong, president of Fox River Valley Storage company, Neenah, W. H. Hutter of Wisconsin Cheese Producers' federation and Prof. Theodore Macklin, agricultural department of the state university.

Prof. Macklin recently returned from New Zealand, which leads the world in the development of cooperation among dairymen. He went there to make a firsthand study of the scope, methods and efficiency of the business organizations of farmers there.

Although the New Zealand dairymen enjoyed the preference that comes from nationality and political connection with England, Prof. Macklin said, they were gradually but surely being crowded out of the English cheese and butter markets by the dairymen of Denmark through a statewide system of cooperative dairymen in the latter country, grading of raw material, standardization of finished product and selling only through a central market.

GOT BUSINESS BACK
When the New Zealanders had lost the greater part of their dairy trade with the mother country to Denmark and saw doom written on their industry, they, instead of surrendering to sharp competition, began studying the dairy methods used in Denmark and transplanting them in improved forms in New Zealand. As a result of this study and adoption, the New Zealand dairymen began at once to regain ground lost in the markets of England and to decrease the English demand for foreign products.

Prof. Macklin's study of the cooperation of dairymen of New Zealand took him to a large number of dairy districts where he traced the raw material in its movement from the herds and farms to large cooperative cheese and butter factories, centrally located and the finished product to storage rooms, to boats for shipment to England and finally to the markets in England.

Each of these steps such as feeding and care of cows, milk handling and devices, testing milk factories, testing and weighing milk, manufacture of butter and cheese, grading of product, testing and stamping by government officials, shipping and everything else connected with the dairy industry, Prof. Macklin reproduced on a screen during his talk to the dairymen of Greenville.

Before he used these pictures, the speaker sharply criticized the dairymen of Wisconsin for making large investments and improvements in farming and the dairy business regardless of the gains that organization and cooperation give to the business man and other manufacturers.

When a dairyman disposes of clean, rich, wholesome milk at the same price paid for dirty, low grade milk, he places a premium on the production of the lowest grade milk, produces incentive toward improvement and surrenders his profit to low grade, indifferent dairymen, he said.

USE PLAN HERE
After describing in detail with the aid of lantern slides, the processes of cooperative dairymen and marketing products in New Zealand, Prof. Macklin urged the adoption of the same processes by the dairymen of Wisconsin.

The following is an outline of the university man's address to the dairy producers of Wisconsin and the United States generally and a description of the cooperative dairymen of New Zealand, which he urged the adoption by Wisconsin farmers.

The process of cheese and butter marketing system in New Zealand and for the United States generally have put out on the American dairy farmer the greatest demand for a new economic system that the world has ever seen. This new system has been developed by a group of dairymen and graded their product to a standard. These dairymen have by agreement and in every other way that they could but better off and are getting a pay for their better product in the form of a price. The standard of these dairymen is the standard of the world and they refuse to deliver the product in the form of a price. These dairymen have by agreement and in every other way that they could but better off and are getting a pay for their better product in the form of a price. The standard of these dairymen is the standard of the world and they refuse to deliver the product in the form of a price.

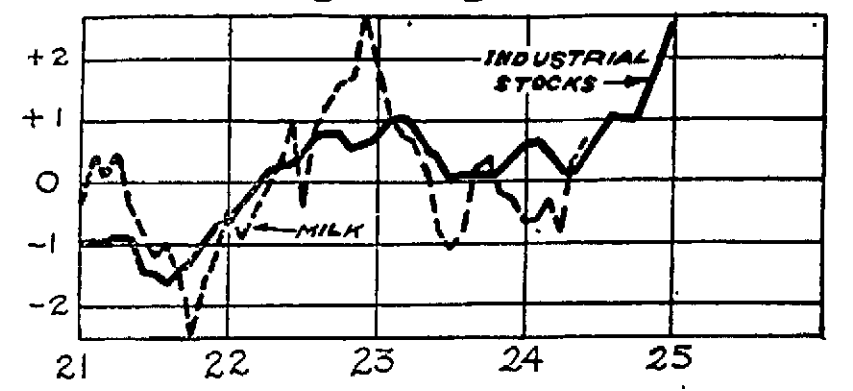

"At one time this great state of New Zealand was a land of small dairymen who were tolerated in New Zealand. The dairymen of New Zealand were there for a long time and they were putting an end to the dairymen of New Zealand by applying the same principle of cooperation. "Grading of milk and cream is a cooperative industry, and dairymen who deliver the quality of their milk how much of it.

"Paying prices for the quality of the milk material delivered is the only way to pay them. The better quality the raw material.

Milk Price Due For Rise, Industry Figures Show

GRAPH SHOWING COMPARATIVE RISE AND FALL OF INDUSTRIAL STOCKS AND MILK PRICES SINCE 1921.

By Associated Press
Ithaca, N. Y.—If the relationship between the stock market and the price of milk holds, the milk prices this year will be higher than last, say economists at Cornell university college of agriculture.

The prices of milk and of industrial stocks for the period for 1921 to 1925 are shown in the accompanying graph. In the past few years milk prices seem to lag behind prices of industrial stocks only about six months as compared with 15 months before the war.

Before the war milk prices were announced by the large companies six months in advance so that it was to change from this condition and to turn out high grade raw material.

"Development, by consolidation of other ways and by building new and larger factories, of plants large enough to hire not only the best of cheesemakers but also to employ capable business managers. This makes possible both the making of better cheese and butter, handling it at less cost and selling it for more money than formerly.

"Handling together of most or all dairy factories making butter or cheese into a comprehensive and efficient sales organization to merchandise the finished product in an up-to-date and modern manner.

"The above listed principles have been studied out and applied in a practical way to every modern industry to the fullest ability and intelligence of the owners and operators of those lines of business. This has not been done in agriculture. The reason is obvious. Farmers have not applied themselves to the task. Their one means of applying business principles to their marketing task is to develop cooperative marketing organizations. Leadership of the Danish, Finnish, Swiss and New Zealand dairy industries all prove this point. The farmer is illogical and works against his own interests who does not help develop modern agricultural marketing of this kind. The business man who opposes the coming of this sort of marketing is fighting not alone his customers' interest but his own business interests as well.

WHEAT RAISING IN WISCONSIN IS ALMOST NIL

Less Than 100,000 Acres Will Be Raised Here This Season, Nyhus Predicts

Madison.—Improved feeling exists among the farmers of the state as the result of generally increased prices and the early spring. It was announced in the hay crop and livestock review issued by Paul O. Nyhus, state agricultural statistician.

"Due to dry weather spring work was started fully two weeks earlier than usual, seeding was finished at an early date and seasonal work is though unusually dry this spring, well along," the report said. "All there was a helpful rainfall over the state just after seeding was finished. Pastures greened up early but are too short to provide any amount of feed up to this time.

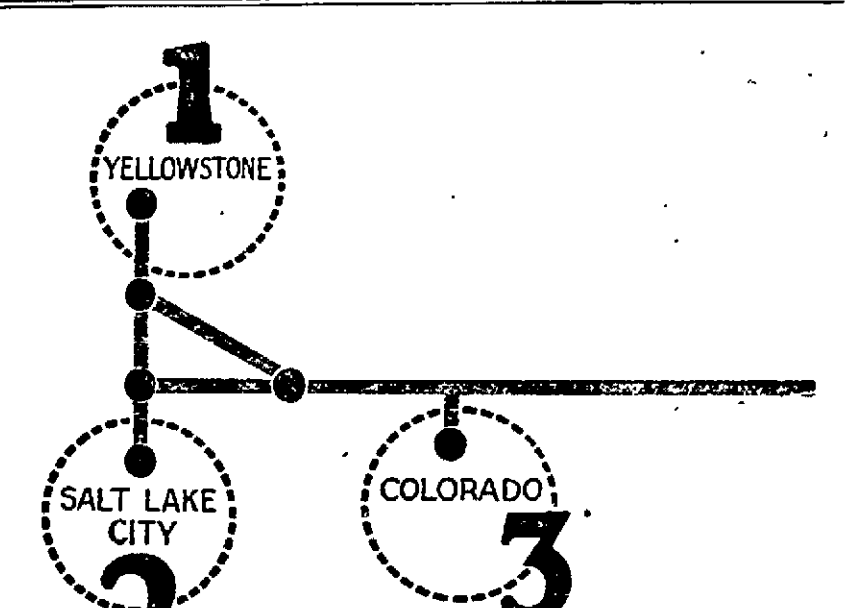

"New seedlings of clover have winterkilled here and there, but this is not a general situation. In most of the state, new seeding of alfalfa have come through the winter in good shape, but in eastern Wisconsin old seedlings have winterkilled to a considerable extent, and in a few counties including Sheboygan, Manitowish, Brown, Dodge, Washington, Outagamie and Oconto, a large acreage will be plowed. Lack of rain this spring probably kept many fields from recovering from damage caused by exposure to severe winter weather. Heavy seedlings of alfalfa last spring will more than offset the loss in acreage of old seedlings that winterkilled.

"Winter damage to rye and winter wheat is general this year and in the central Wisconsin rye region stands are thin and spotted. Farmers report the conditions of rye on May 1 as $3 per cent normal, which compares with $3 per cent last year and an average on May 1 of $2 per cent, an acreage for harvest is estimated to be 273,000 acres or 35 per cent of last year.

"Twenty-two per cent of the winter wheat acreage winterkilled. Three or four per cent is usual but only once during the past thirteen years has there been such a high per cent. The acreage in Wisconsin has been getting less and less each year and this year's acreage of 51,000 is the lowest on record. The 1925 acreage of both spring and winter wheat will probably not exceed 100,000 acres. This is a striking contrast to 1,870,000 acres back in 1875 when Wisconsin was a leading wheat growing state.

"Sentiment among farmers of the state is noticeably better than a year ago. High grain prices have influenced dairymen to feed sparingly, causing butter and cheese production to run lower than last season. Storage stocks have been cut down to levels that do not menace prices. Butter and cheese prices are holding at a substantially higher level than a year ago. Hog prices are at high levels and promise to be good for at least this spring's crop of pigs. The crop season has an early start. Early pastures will cut down feed costs, and in southern Wisconsin considerable old hay will be carried over for next winter.

THOUSAND ACRES LEASED IN NORTH

A. M. Penney Co., Waupaca, Will Operate Sunset Farm in Oneida-co

Waupaca.—A. M. Penney company of this city will operate the Sunset farm of 1,000 acres in Oneida-co this season. W. E. Wagner and a crew of four men have gone to Eagle River to take charge. The company has leased the property on joint account.

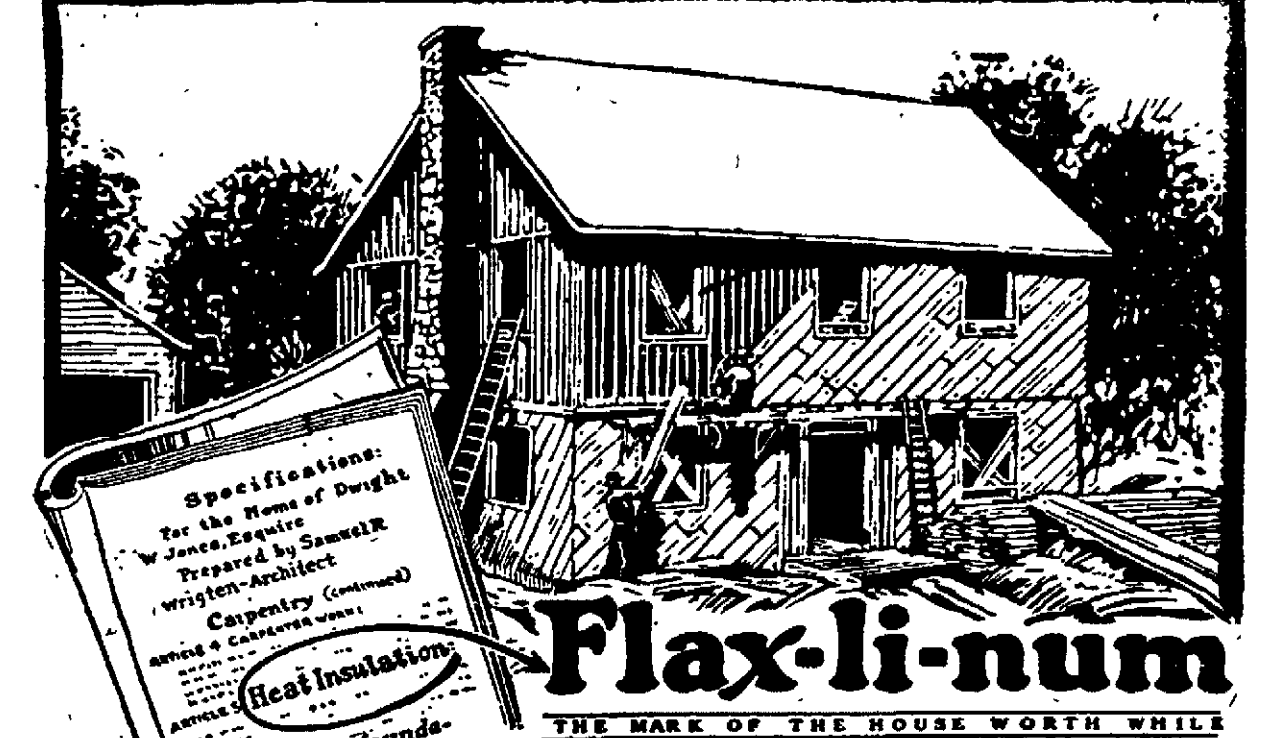

This farm was the property of Clark Cuny and now is in the hands of a receiver who leased it in order to keep the land from deteriorating. The farm is fully equipped with tractors, threshing machines, clover huller and all smaller machinery besides fifteen work horses. Mr. Wagner proposes to sow two hundred acres of oats and plant a hundred or more acres of potatoes. There is a field of last year seeding of 183 acres that came through the winter in prime condition. It is the plan to use the baler on the place and press the hay for shipment.

The farm has a large potato warehouse on a sidetrack upon the farm. The operators propose to plant and produce only certified seed potatoes. Mrs. Wagner will go to Eagle River in a few days to join her husband.

In homes that are well built Flax-li-num lines the walls and top story ceilings. Flax-li-num stops the cold from coming in in winter; and in summer it keeps the heat out, especially from upstairs rooms. It saves coal and brings healthful comfort the year round.

What Flax-li-num is
For Flax-li-num is the newly understood building material used in walls and roofs to prevent the too great loss of inside heat that ordinarily occurs. These semi-rigid sheets of flax felt stop the passage of either heat or cold like rubber stops the passage of electric current. A life-time of study and scientific experiment came before Flax-li-num was offered to the public fifteen years ago. Flax-li-num was developed in the effort to find a means of perfect refrigeration for transporting southern fruits to cold climates.

Flax-li-num in 90 Per Cent of Refrigerator Cars
Could a more rigorous requirement be put upon any heat insulation than to permit California pears to be delivered in the best of condition to Winnipeg in January? That is just what Flax-li-num did for refrigerator cars licensed under Bohn patents and insulated with Flax-li-num brought California fruits thru in perfect condition. As a result of similar tests the great majority of all refrigerator cars made in recent years are insulated with this ideal material, as are thousands of household refrigerators of standard makes.

To Line with Flax-li-num is Not Expensive
There is much incorrect information available about the cost of heat insulating with Flax-li-num. Flax-li-num is not expensive. For less than the cost of a talking machine you can have genuine Flax-li-num in your home.

When in place in your walls and roof genuine Flax-li-num costs very little more than much thinner and less efficient material. And Flax-li-num brings a return in actual dollars saved that repays its slight additional cost usually within the first year.

COLLEGE ACTORS SCORE TRIUMPH IN FUNNY PLAY

Miss Ione Kreiss Particularly Pleasing in Difficult Role of Dulcy

Appleton theater-goers were as entranced with "Dulcy" Monday night at Fischer's Appleton Theatre as were Chicago and New York audiences before. Prof. Orr's fifteenth annual all-college production at Lawrence was well received and well acted.

The 3-act comedy was originally written for Lynn Fontaine in the title role. The exceedingly difficult role was carried by Ione Kreiss, Appleton in true Lynn Fontaine style. The other cast members were forced to their utmost to play up to the vivacious Dulcy. Harry Snyder, Farmington, Minn., was the opposite lead.

Harold Jens as the grouchy C. Roger Forbes was excellent in his role, and Robert Pugh played the indifferent, bored young brother of Dulcy with a nonchalance which was almost natural. La Vahn Maesch, always at home at the piano, found no trouble in filling out the rest of the Schuyler Van Dyck part. Lillian Augustine as Angela Forbes and Lela Rosencrans as Mrs. Forbes, the other female leads, rounded out the character of Dulcy by carefully acted contrast.

The play opens at a time when Gordon, husband of Dulcy, is nearly financially "broke." He needs the help of C. Roger Forbes, who with his family is coming to visit them on a weekend party. Dulcy insists on meddling in her husband's business affairs with Mr. Forbes. Other members on the party are William Sterrett, Forbes' advertising man, played by Allen Heinke; Vincent Leach (Rosencrans); a seaman, who is in love with Angela, Forbes' daughter; and Schuyler Van Dyck, one of THE Van Dycks of Newport.

Many amusing situations arise out of Dulcy's meddling. Angela and Leach elope, a pearl necklace is lost or supposedly stolen by Henry (William Kiessling) the butler, and Van Dyck turns out to be a harmless lunatic. Things look bad for the Smiths until it is discovered that the elopement is between William and Angela, the necklace turns up, and Forbes gives Gordon the needed help. All three acts were laid in the suburban home of the Smiths. The first act takes place just before dinner on a Friday night, act two immediately after dinner, and act three the following morning.

GERMAN PUZZLED BY YANKEE PIE

Potsdam Teacher Found
Americans Won't Be Fooled
With "Apfelkuchen"

By Associated Press
Potsdam—Baking an American pie was the stiffest proposition put up to Louise Wyneken, of this city, formerly teacher at the Domestic Science and Trade School of Nienburg, when she went to America recently to study American home life as a cook. In a series of articles contributed to the Berliner Tageblatt, she narrates her personal experiences. The apple pie episode came during her second week in America.

"With diabolical cunning," she writes, "the lady I worked for singled out a pie for me, greenhorn that I was, to bake. This American national dish was a mystery which I dared not attempt to solve, as I had been in the country for less than two weeks. I therefore made a tip-top German apfelkuchen, which looked almost like a pie and certainly tasted better to me. Result: The others disdained it."

Grapefruit was another dish that stumped Miss Wyneken. The first course," she observes, "was grapefruit. Every American child, of course, knows how to prepare it, but I didn't."

On the whole Miss Wyneken found that American servants have better quarters than German, even the luxury of a private bath, and that they are treated politely, but that, nevertheless, "being a cook in America is no more fun than being one in Germany."

PURCHASES MARYLAND VILLAGE FOR $43,000

Ashland, Md.—"Make Ashland your landing field," is today's best advice to storks.

After more than a century of existence, this village in Baltimore county has a population of only 130. But it will grow.

Everything to make a baby happy and to make the town attractive to the parents of young families will be provided here. The town has been purchased, all 34 of its houses and the land they stand on, for $43,000 by Mayo Swartz.

There will be a new playground adjoining the little schoolhouse, and in remodeling the houses special provision will be made for nurseries.

"It's going to be a refuge for families who have been crowded from apartment to apartment by the city can 'No Children Admitted,'" says Swartz. "All the breaks will go to families with children."

Criminologist Says There Is Something Wrong With Educational System

By Associated Press
Los Angeles—Surveys among prisoners in the Los Angeles county jail indicate that there is something wrong with present educational and religious methods, in the opinion of Raymond J. Turney, director of the Los Angeles crime commission. He expressed this view at a recent meeting of the Southern California Academy of Criminology.

Seven percent of the inmates of the county jail, Mr. Turney said, were college graduates, as against 6 1/2 percent in ordinary civil life; 12 1/2 percent of the prisoners had college training; 45 percent were high school graduates, compared with 25 percent outside the walls.

All the prisoners agreed, added Mr. Turney, that there had been a lack of moral training and a defect of character-building training in the schools, and that the same thing was true of the religions, a majority of which were represented.

Mr. Turney declared that most of the prisoners concurred in the belief that habitual criminal should not be allowed to bring children into the world. All believed in punishment, he continued, but favored institutions where prisoners could be employed in producing some commodity.

ASK GOCHNAUER TO HEAD NETBALL TEAM

C. O. Gochnauer, coach of Appleton's second place volleyball team in the state tournament held here last month, was invited to accept the position again next year, at a banquet and "remembrance" meeting of the members of the local squad and the Y. M. C. A. physical committee Monday evening.

Mr. Gochnauer had tendered the banquet to the team members in honor of their fine showing in the meet. About 15 men were present.

A round table discussion on experiences at this year's tourney was held and plans for next year's meet were discussed. The problem of selecting a team for the meet was given much consideration. This was referred to the physical department committee with instructions to outline a definite method. The meeting was closed with informal "funmaking" and a social hour.

Trades Council Meets
Appleton Trades and Labor council will hold its regular semi-monthly meeting in the Trades and Labor council rooms Wednesday evening. The meeting is scheduled to start at 8 o'clock, and will be devoted entirely to routine business.

REGARD FEDERAL GAME LAW HARD ON BALMY SOUTH

Sportsmen Want Open Season on Ducks Changed for Hunting Cool Weather

By Associated Press
Columbia, S. C. — Because warm weather in the south continues from 15 days to one month longer than in the northern states, federal game laws applicable to the nation as a whole work a hardship on southern sportsmen, according to A. A. Richardson, state game warden of South Carolina and southern representative on the federal advisory board on migratory bird laws.

As a member of the board, Mr. Richardson said recently, he expected to advocate changing the open season for ducks about 15 days, so that they may be hunted in the southern states during colder weather.

When ducks first arrive in the south they are in poor physical condition, due to their long flight, Mr. Richardson said, and the weakness of the birds renders them less suitable in their slaughter in large numbers.

Enactment of amendments to the national game laws changing the duck season to open Nov. 15 and continue until Feb. 15, instead of from Nov. 1 to Feb. 1, as at present, will be proposed.

Another change sought by the southern representative will be to have an open season of one month for wood, or summer, duck. He said that these ducks have become so plentiful as to permit a short open season.

New Method Removes Wrinkles in 15 Minutes

A veritable wonder-worker for wrinkled and flabby faces is a simple, harmless application made by mixing a spoonful of powdered tartaric acid with a spoonful of lemon juice. Not only does it quickly smooth out the wrinkles and age lines—before one's very eyes—but it has a stimulating influence upon the weakened and relaxed underlying tissues. The mixture is spread over the face with the fingertips, and in less than fifteen minutes the mirror shows that a most marvelous transformation has taken place. When the substance is washed off the average face actually looks ten or fifteen years younger.

The results are far better than those obtainable from the most expert massaging—and the cost is less than three cents a treatment. Powdered tartaric acid can be obtained from any drug-gist.

PROF. FAIRFIELD TALKS AT FOND DU LAC

Prof. Otto F. Fairfield of Lawrence college spoke on "The Seven Ages of Man" at the meeting of the Woman's club of Fond du Lac Monday afternoon at the Library hall. The business session was followed by a program for the music department. Mrs. Roger Sutherland, accompanied by Mrs. A. D. Sutherland, gave a number of violin selections.

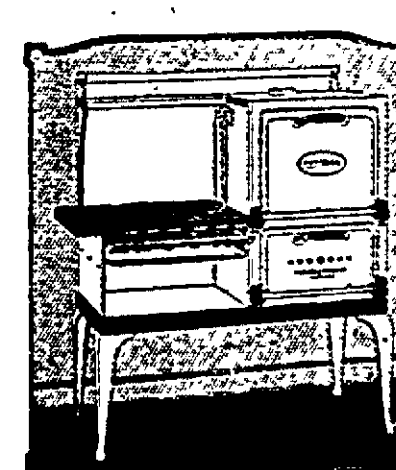

which should be from Oct. 1 to Nov. 1. Mr. Richardson will oppose any attempt to secure a longer closed season for rice birds.

GERMAN GENIUS RUNS BUT TEN IN THOUSAND

By Associated Press
Berlin—Germany, a local daily with a love for statistics, has collected a lot of figures on German population from which it derives authority for the following statements: Ten out of every 1,000 men and three out of every 1,000 women are idiots. On the other hand, out of 1,000 men there are 10 geniuses, whereas among 1,000 women there are none. When it comes to average intelligence, the women are ahead, 535 out of 1,000 being in that category, while only 350 out of 1,000 men thus qualify.

Blouse And Tunic Alike For Spring

It is very hard these days, what with the lengthening of blouses and the shortening of skirts, to tell a tunic from a dress at first glance. Not until after it has been put on can a tunic be differentiated from one of the short, straightline frocks. There is, however, a difference in price based on the traditional figures governing blouses and dresses, rather than on any difference in materials or elaboration.

The tendency to confuse the two garments is all the greater since this season's tunics are developed in dress styles, with long jabot trimmings, side plaits and other details. Also many of them have a border of plain material applied to gayly colored prints.

HEM OF SCARLET

One such tunic is made of a flowered print, with a V-shaped neck opening, very short sleeves, and an applied hem of heavy scarlet crepe which matches the red in the design and weights the garment. This tunic, as it appears on the warm sands of Palm Beach and as it later appears during the warm days in a northern climate, is worn with a slip of white silk which emphasizes the fresh, summery look of the costume. A red hat and white shoes and stockings are included in the general color scheme.

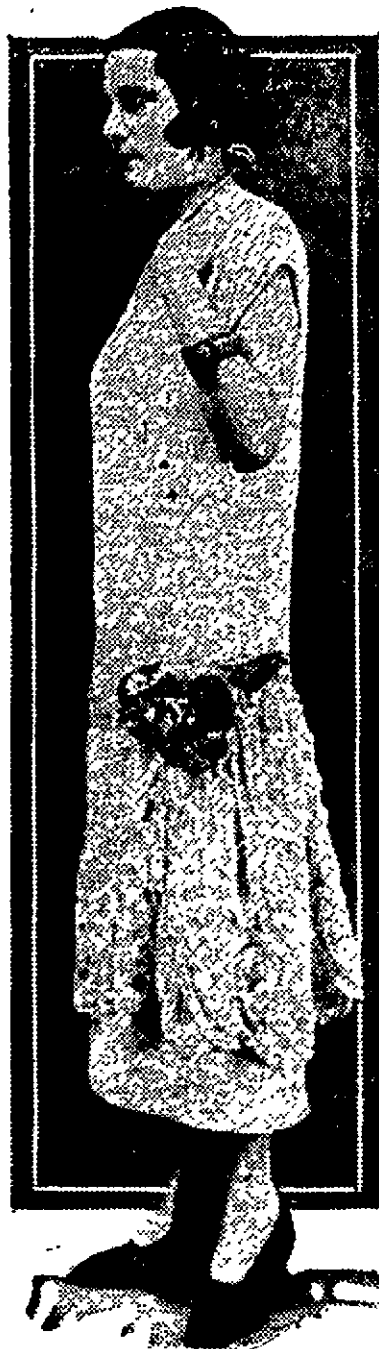

As if, in answer to the call from the tunic for all kinds and colors in slips, they are being shown in the shops this season in greater variety than usual. Red, green, blue, brown and the perenna black silk slips crowd each other for choice as part of a costume. These slips must be, and are, well made and fitted, of excellent material and with deep hems.

SPRING'S COLOR

A slip of apple green is worn with a tunic of printed crepe in which that shade of green is combined with soft blue and lavender on a white background, the whole suggestive of spring's soft colors. Many tunics show a discreet use of buttons, usually pearl buttons applied in vertical lines.

There is great splash of red all through the long row of new tunics. It is impossible to get too bright a red and where the plain color does not make the body of the costume, it is used in trimming or may furnish the color for the slip foundation.

PARIS DRESS

This new Paris dress won't do for the flapper who is not averse to "a kiss in the dark." A large phosphorescent, flower, just below the waistline, is its only decoration.

Adventures Of The Twins

THE MARCH HARE WAKENS THE RAGSIES

"Where are we going?" asked Nancy as the March Hare galloped over the meadow towards the woods.

"I've got to start spring today," answered the Hare. "It's too silly the way things hold back and hold back unless someone comes along and gives them a push. I have to give several people pushes. First of all I have to get after Mister Tatters and the Raggies."

"What have they to do with spring?" asked Nick. "I thought they lived under the ground."

"They do," answered the March Hare. "And that's all the more reason for their getting busy. Spring starts under the ground."

By and by they came to the place by the dog-wood tree where a cave-like place led straight down into the earth.

Down this they went and by and by they came to a little wooden door.

"Knock," said the March Hare. The Twins jumped off and knocked with all their might.

But nobody answered.

"Just as I thought," muttered the March Hare. "Everybody sound asleep. It's a good thing I came. 'Knock!'"

So the Twins kicked. By and by they heard someone say: "Hi-ho-hum! What's that noise? Go and see, Spuddy!"

And suddenly the door was opened by the raggied little Raggy you ever saw. Hadn't been washed or combed for months and he'd slept so long he could scarcely get his eyes open.

"Is Mister Tatters up?" asked the March Hare sharply.

"Just getting up now," yawned the Raggy. "Come on in."

So into Raggy Land stepped the visitors.

"Hello," said a sleepy voice. "Is spring here?"

And there stood Mr. Tatters looking sleepier and grimmer even than the one who had answered the door.

"Well I should say so," said the March Hare. "The robins and blue birds have been here for a week. And here you and your Raggies haven't started to push the clover up through the ground yet. You'll have to get busy at once, Mister Tatters. Get all the roots unpacked down under the ground here, and start pushing green things up. I hope you didn't forget the snow-drops this year."

"No," said the little raggedy fairy fellow. "I told one of my men to set his alarm clock so he could waken extra early and attend to the snow-drops."

"Well, I'm glad of that," said the March Hare. "The snow-drops should have been out two weeks ago."

"Go and get washed in the creek," called Mister Tatters to all the little ragged fairies around him. "Spring is here and the ice is gone. Then hurry back and help me to get the roots unpacked."

"Yes, sir," they cried as they all rolled out of bed and rushed for the door.

"Farmer Greenway is digging his garden," said the March Hare. "and he'll be putting his seeds in before long."

Trousseau Designed With Simple Lines For Spring

Already the approach of June, the month of roses and weddings, has set the heart of many a bride-to-be afutter with thoughts of the small cares incidental to the trousseau, the bridal retinue, the wedding and the honeymoon.

It is a wise bride that plans her wedding so as to have a day of two of complete rest at the end, minus the frantic rush that often brings the bride to the altar on the verge of hysteria.

The trousseau for the next weeks, will be the prime consideration. It is designed on simple lines this year with an eye to rapidly changing fashion.

Two frilly afternoon dresses, one formal gown, several dainty house dresses, four pairs of slippers, one of oxfords, a street hat and a sport hat, a light wrap and a heavier sport coat, two pairs of gloves and fur scarf will fill the needs of the summer bride.

Lingerie, of course, must be prepared in plenty, and may be as elaborate as the bride's purse will permit.

Household linens should be bought as soon as the bride knows what her house is to be like, and should be chosen, not only for beauty, but for durability.

Wedding invitations should be sent two weeks before the wedding. Four o'clock and 8 o'clock are now favorite hours for weddings, though Catholic and Episcopalian ceremonies are often performed at high noon.

A church wedding will accommodate a great many more guests than a home wedding, of course, but is much more expensive. Decorations should not be overdone, and a simple color scheme harmonizing with the bridal gown should be followed.

Candle light ceremonies are increasing in favor.

One or two solos usually precede the ceremony, and the wedding march is played either on the organ or the piano, with a violin obligato.

A bride chooses her sister or her best friend for honor maid or matron, and three or four bridesmaids from her intimate friends. The groom chooses the best man and the bride and groom together select the ushers. If the groom has a sister, she must be included in the retinue.

The bride's father or nearest male relative if the father is dead gives her in marriage.

It is essential that the entire bridal party should rehearse the ceremony at least once, with the musicians.

The minister will be able to give invaluable advice concerning the details of the ceremony.

At a church wedding, the organ again strikes up the wedding march as the party leaves the altar in procession. At a home wedding, the bride and groom stand near the altar to receive the congratulations of their friends.

In either case, the reception takes place in the drawing room of the bride's home. If a wedding breakfast is to be served, the guest list should be limited to the number that can be seated at the table.

The menu should consist of consommé, salad, ices, cakes, coffee and hotbombs. If there is a wedding cake, the bride must cut it.

Refreshments for a reception are less elaborate. Ices, cakes, nuts and coffee will be enough.

The bride must stay with her guests at least an hour after the ceremony, before retiring to her room to put on her traveling costume.

A honeymoon usually lasts about two weeks, and the bride makes no attempt to answer the wedding gifts until she returns. She must keep a careful record of gifts and donors, lest she thank the wrong person.

The only proper acknowledgement of a wedding gift is a personal note, in which the groom's thanks are incorporated with the bride's.

LETTER FROM BEATRICE SUMMERS TO LESLIE PRESCOTT. CONTINUED

Leslie, I was afraid to come out here when I married Dick, I never thought I would like these children by any people. It seemed to me that they were without any responsibility. Since coming here, however, I think I have learned that to be as happy as possible and as gay and smiling as this old world will let me be, is one's great mission on earth.

I see a great deal of Paula Perier who has just built and furnished a gorgeous new home. We talk a great deal about you.

You completely captivated her when she made her personal appearance in your city. She thinks you are "the loveliest lady" she has ever known either in fiction or in real life.

I told her the other night that you were expecting a new baby.

I have never known her so interested in a bit of news. Usually she has no particular flair for gossip at any time. She asked me innumerable questions which I could not of course answer.

The first thing she said was, "If Madame Leslie should have a boy of her own, do you think it will make any difference in the love she gives to the ones she has adopted?"

Then she added as everyone does: "Oh, I hope it will be a girl."

She asked me also if you would take it as she meant it if she should send you some little present to the coming baby.

"No one will ever know how grateful I am to Madame Leslie," she said, "for what she did for me in my own home town of Albany. If she had not taken me up, I am afraid that some of the snobbish society women, who had known me when I was an advertising model would have made my appearance very uncomfortable for me. Madame Leslie, whom all the younger set followed, came forward and made my stay one of perfect happiness and success. I tell you, Madame Summers, only I know how much I have for which to thank the wife of John Alden Prescott."

I expect that was her French way, Leslie dear, of expressing herself. She is a most interesting young woman and I get a lot of "kick," as they say out here, from her diverse points of view.

For instance: Last night when she was over here and we were talking about one of our mutual friends whose marriage has just gone on the rocks, she said: "I don't think that Allen should be so desperately unhappy. She was deliciously in love for at least a year. Why can she not remember that, instead of bemoaning the fact that her love is dead now? Sometimes I think, Madame Summers, that we make too much of disappointments and griefs and too little of our joys and bliss."

"I have learned that when we reach the place from where we can look back with the right perspective both joy and sorrow are but incidents of life."

Health Hints

CHILLS BRING ILLNESS

Chills and fever are not so common as they once were, thanks to the fight against the malaria mosquito.

However, many acute diseases begin with a chill, and are followed with fever. The fever subsides after a time, and is followed by a second chill. The doctor usually prescribes a dose of quinine.

Reaction during the chill should be promoted by application of hot bottles or hot water bags at the feet and under the arms, covering the patient with warm blankets and giving warm drinks, such as hot lemonade and hot milk.

Stimulants should not be given without the doctor's permission.

When the fever comes on, ice and cold water may be given. A cooling laxative usually is ordered, as citrate of magnesia.

The body may be sponged if the temperature is very high. A cloth, wet in alcohol, and bound on the forehead, will help to relieve the headache. It should be kept wet without removing it from the head.

When the fever decreases the patient should be dried from time to time, a flannel night dress put on, the room darkened and the sufferer put to bed.

THE PEASANT BLOUSE

The peasant blouse is the favorite of all classes of society this season. It may be of silk, flannel or velvet and is embellished in all the crude shades of red, green, blue and yellow that the peasants combine so gaily. Sometimes they are smocked or plaited at the neck and armholes to get the full blousy effect so much desired.

SISTER Mary's KITCHEN

Breakfast—Hot water. Luncheon—Four tablespoons fruit cocktail, 4 ounces cold boiled tongue, 2 tablespoons spaghetti with cheese, 1 tomato sliced on 2 ounces lettuce with 1 tablespoon lemon juice, 1 cup weak tea or hot water.

Dinner—Three ounces broiled Salisbury steak, 10 stalks asparagus, 1/2 cup shredded cabbage with 1 table spoon lemon juice, 1 gluten roll, 2 fresh apricots, 1 cup skimmed milk.

Bedtime—One cup skimmed milk. Total calories, 1045. Protein, 334; fat, 262; carbohydrate, 452. Iron, .02 gram.

Many persons on a reducing diet prefer to do without breakfast and eat an early hearty luncheon. As the diet has been low in protein for the last few days, this day's menu is very high in it, bringing the general average up to normal.

If you find it impossible on "party" occasion to diet without hurting your hostess' feelings you can make up for your "intemperance" by going on a very low caloric diet the next day, bringing the general average for the two days down to normal.

FRUIT COCKTAIL. One tablespoon diced cantaloupe, 1 tablespoon diced pineapple, 1 table spoon diced apricots, 1 table spoon dried orange pulp, 1 teaspoon sugar, sprig mint.

The fruit should be cut in half-inch dice. The orange should be free from skin. Combine with sugar and let stand on ice two hours to thoroughly chill and draw out the juices. Serve with a sprig of mint in each glass.

Total calories, 105. Protein, 4; fat, 1; carbohydrate, 101. Iron, .0903 gram.

Breakfast—One large glass orange juice, 1/2 cup boiled rice with chopped dates, 1/2 cup cream, 2 tablespoons scrambled eggs with minced ham, 2 tablespoons old-fashioned fried potato.

THIS WOMAN'S REMARKABLE RECOVERY

Entirely Due to Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Forest City, Iowa.—"My first child lived only a short time and I was sick for a year after."

When I bent over and raised myself up again I could not scream with pain in my back. One day I was so bad that I had to leave my washing and get ready to go to the doctor. He gave me medicine but it did no more good than if I drank just water. Once when we had been in town a little while telling about Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound we left in our car. I have taken five bottles of the Vegetable Compound now and I do all my housework and help with the milking and taking care of chickens and garden. Besides I have a fine baby girl eight months old, just the picture of health and I am feeling fine myself. You may use this letter as a testimonial and I will answer any letters asking about the Vegetable Compound."—Mrs. OSCAR F. BORGES, Route No. 5, Forest City, Iowa.

HATS WITH LARGE BRIMS LATEST RAGE

"This year all is changed. The colorful straw, with as much brim as the wearer is willing to carry, will be the rage."

To substantiate his words he showed me numerous shapes. In flower shades, of blue, pink, green, yellow and white, two of the most attractive being shown in illustration.

The most revolutionary model is the lace brimmed one. There's something very mid-victorian about that, you must admit. It can be depended upon to set the masculine heart aflutter, every time. It is very colorful as well, made of horsehair braid crushed straw, with lace above and beneath the brim. A narrow satin ribbon the exact shade of the straw decorates the crown.

STREAMERS, TOO

And streamers are coming back, too.

Another evidence that we are going back to the previous century for our inspiration. See the rose colored hemp model with the wide satin ribbon of the same color draped around loos, 2 cornmeal muffins, 1 tablespoon butter, hot water.

Mid-morning lunch—One cup "half and half."

Luncheon—Four tablespoons fruit cocktail, 4 ounces cold boiled tongue, 4 tablespoons spaghetti with cheese, 1 stuffed tomato on 2 ounces lettuce with 2 tablespoons mayonnaise, 4 tablespoons banana and strawberry pudding, 2 slices bran bread, 1 table spoon butter, hot water or weak tea.

Afternoon tea—One cup fruit punch, 3 cream cheese and nut sandwiches.

Dinner—Three ounces broiled Salisbury steak, 4 tablespoons scalloped potatoes, 10 stalks asparagus with 2 tablespoons melted butter, 1/2 cup shredded cabbage with 2 tablespoons cream dressing, 2 slices whole wheat bread, 1 table spoon butter, 2 fresh apricots, 1 chocolate éclair, 1 cup weak tea.

Bedtime—One cup whole milk. Total calories, 4011. Protein, 422; fat, 1681; carbohydrate, 1395. Iron, .0221 gram.

"Half and half" is quite fattening and if your digestion will stand the extra fat you will find this drink of half milk and half cream more beneficial than all milk.

Old-fashioned fried potatoes are easier to digest than the usual fried potato. Enough butter to saute thinly sliced cold boiled potatoes is melted in the frying pan. Turn the potatoes to have them an even straw color. Then add cream to barely cover the potatoes and simmer until the cream is absorbed.

(Copyright, 1924, NEA Service, Inc.)

the crown, dripping right through the brim and cuddling on the shoulder. The large hat of this season, he said usually has a very deep and very well fitted crown and may be shorter across the back than in front.

"Women are becoming much more subtle with their millinery than ever before." "The untrimmed, plain felt hats they have become so accustomed to have not been flattering, and have satte only when worn just right. With picturesque, colorful and very feminine hats again the vogue, women should be able to work wonders with their costumes."

MADISON BLUES MEET PAIS IN MIDWEEK BALL GAMES

JIMMY DODGE'S ALL-STAR SQUAD PLAYS MENASHA

Team Which Beat Harry Rusch in 1924 Strengthened by Several New Men

Valley baseball fans who desire to see what Wisconsin can produce in the way of semi-pro ball players need only travel to Menasha Wednesday and Thursday when the Menasha-Neenah, Falls of the Wisconsin State League, battle Jimmy Dodge's crack Madison Blues. Practically the entire team is composed of state boys who have played with Jimmy for some time. Dodge is well-known to state fans as a star hurler. He has pitched for practically every league in the state, gaining lots of fame with the old Milwaukee Red Sox. With this crew he turned in two no-hits, no run, games and several low-hit tilts in a few years. The Madison crew is strengthened over last year when it beat Menasha two out of three games. The weekend games showed that the Falls have a real crew that will make them all step if supported right, but the valley fans are not coming through, according to Manager W. H. Pierce, who is about ready to give up trying to please the valley for nothing. If the attendance does not take a jump at the first mid-week games on Wednesday and Thursday, something will be done, Mr. Pierce said.

The Blues will have not only Jimmy Dodge for mounds duty but also Herb Christensen, former Badger ace, who beat Harry Rusch in a mound duel last year so that the two games should be real attractions. With a stronger Menasha-Neenah club than last year the battle is sure to be hard fought. The games will start at 4 o'clock.

That Menasha-Neenah is playing real ball was illustrated by the Grizzard battle. Fans who complained that the Grizzlies were a second class team were surprised to hear that Sheboygan beat them Sunday 5 to 3 in a real game. Another attraction here soon will be Spencer Heath and his Little Plaines club of Chicago.

The answer of Mr. Pierce when asked regarding the future baseball situation in Menasha was one that valley fans might think about. He said, "If I am to play on the game here, you must support it, or else there is going to be one good ball club on the market for a song soon."

Baseball Simplified

By Billy Evans

When the wrong batter takes his place at the plate and hits safely what is the proper procedure for the team in the field to take, provided they notice the error?

The team in the field must make an immediate appeal to the umpire before a ball is pitched to the succeeding batter. If the appeal is successful, the play is null and void. If the appeal is not successful, the play stands.

This play is one of the few in baseball that requires an appeal to the umpire. Even though he is aware of the mistake, he pays no attention to it unless the team in the field makes the proper protest.

Baseball is supposed to be a game for live wires. If the umpire ruled on this play it would do away to a certain extent with head-on baseball. If the team at bat errs, it is up to the team in the field to notice it if they are to profit because of the mistake in the batting order.

Should a ball be pitched to a succeeding batter before the team in the field discovers the fact that an improper batsman has been at the plate, there is no redress. It must stand as made.

STRONG LARK TEAMS MINGLE IN 2ND GAME

The second game of the 1925 Lark League schedule was to be played at 5:00 Tuesday afternoon at Jones park when the American Legion squad, winners of the opening tilt last week, were to meet the Lions club team, 1924 champions. Final results of the game probably will depend a great deal on the showing of the two teams in this game as the Lions are picked to repeat and the Legion undoubtedly has one of the strongest teams in the league. Last week's score against the Kiwanis indicated the strength of the Legionaires. The Kiwanis were challengers in 1924, leading the league most of the way and only losing out to the Lions in the final stretch. Hantschel will pitch for the Legion, according to Manager Eddie Starnard.

3 APPLETON BOWLERS TAKE K. P. PRIZES

Three local pin knights rolled into the money division in the state Knights of Pythias bowling tournament which was held on April 11 in Milwaukee, according to an announcement of the secretary received here. W. Jacobson was high among the local men, all of whom copied their bacon in the singles. He rolled 380 for thirty-fifth place and $2.50 in prize money. Judge Fred V. Heinenmann took fifty-ninth place with a mark of 387 and will receive $1.50 as his reward. David Smith copied sixty-seventh place with 361 pins to his credit and pocketed $1.00.

FAST PITCHERS BATTLE ENDS IN 65-31 SCORE

In one of the most evenly contested "pitching duels" seen on a Fox river valley ball field in some time, local Truckdrivers proved to be baseball fans of the vicinity that Appleton has at least one real ball team by taking the measure of the Chicago and Northwestern Warehouse Employees Sunday afternoon by a 65 to 31 score. The game was staged on the Storie Island field. Burmeister, Truckdriver hurler, struckout 17 Railroaders. Superiority of the Truckmen in retrieving the ball from the lake in fast time gave them a decided advantage.

Batteries:
Truck drivers—Art Burmeister, and Gus Buchert.
Railroaders—Art Rockner and Harold Pasch.

Dave's Dots And Dashes

Scoring two 100-point victories over Normal school squads such as the Lawrence track team accomplished in the last two weeks may not be much to boast about and really isn't giving the Blue real competition for future meets in most events, but think of this: In winning the meets, three Blue athletes have beaten Normal school state record holders. Oshkosh lost the state meet by one point last year to Milwaukee, five-time successive winner, and are picked for first this year.

Rolls and your truly have just about decided to award the perfect umpire medal (you may not think there is such an animal) to Irish Dan Meyers. That ump, handling several of the most difficult series in the state loop, several in Menasha where fans ARE fast, got nary a single knock! That's a record that few can boast. In the famous Chicago series Dan was called by the fans to come in and relieve the other ump who didn't suit their fancy.

Friends: the battle (probably of words) is on! Now a group of Lawrence ball players, including Kotal and his crew, have challenged the Fox River Paper Co. to a city title tilt. Manager Baetz bites off even more than he can chew even with his all-star crew, we opine, when he says he will trim both teams in one day in a doubleheader attraction and get the darn thing settled! No hard feelings boys, but actions are said to speak louder than words.

HOLY NAME CREW WINS HOME GAME

Sheboygan Press Squad Falls Before Heavy Sluggers from Kimberly

In a ball game filled with slugging on the part of the home team, the Kimberly Senior Holy Name Society swamped the Sheboygan Press team in the first home game for the winners Sunday afternoon by a score of 17 to 5. A. Poca, Kimberly hurling ace, was given great support, with not an error chalked up against his mates. The Sheboygan boys hit the ball hard but the fielding of the home boys stopped the Press crew short. Poca allowed seven hits and fanned ten men.

Kimberly pounded the two Sheboygan pitchers all over the lot, every man except one getting a hit. L. Thein got five hits in six trips to the plate. One of his hits was a homer. Sheboygan contributed seven errors to help the winners and handled the ball in a ragged manner.

Next Sunday the Kimberly boys will play Oaksho at Kimberly. Teams desiring games should write to Manager Bernard Spay at Kimberly.

The lineup:
Kimberly—L. Spay, first base; E. Courchane, second base; L. Thein, third base; D. Courchane, shortstop; D. Williams, leftfield; H. Thein, centerfield; A. Swanke, rightfield; B. Spay, catcher; A. Poca, pitcher; John Vanden Elsen, substitute.

Sheboygan lineup: Schaefer, first base; Schultz, second base; Quastus, third base; Lucile, shortstop; Phalen, leftfield; Doering, centerfield; Metzner, rightfield; Radtke, catcher; Bub, pitcher.

Infield Work and Pitching Give Newspapermen Verdict in First Battle

If Connie Mack's famous million-dollar infield had been over at Jones park Monday afternoon it might have received some valuable information on how to play its positions by watching the actions of the players in the opening tilt of the 1925 Twilight League which went to the Post-Crescent team, 1924 champs, by a 8 to 1 decision over the Appleton Chair Co. crew. The work of the champ's infield was as smooth as any in the city this year. The combination of Hartzel at first, Jacobson at second, Rawlsky at third and Cartier and Starnard, shortstops, stopping several would-be hits. Only four balls were hit to the outfield, none of these going through on the ground, and after a couple of innings, the P.C. crew was considering sending over to Brettschneider's for chairs for the fielders.

Wagner pitched good ball, allowing only five hits in the nine innings he tossed, while the winners touched King for twelve. The Chairs showed lack of practice. They were unable to score an earned run, however, getting the only marker in the ninth on two errors. Hartzel was the hitting star for the winners and played a good game at first. He not two runs during the game. Dachelette and Host worked good for the losers.

Lineups:
Post-Crescent—Wagner, pitcher; Bentle, catcher; Hartzel, first base; Jacobson, second base; Rawlsky, third base; Cartier and Starnard, shortstops; McIntyre, Schroeder, Koepke and Bender, fielders.
Chairs—King, pitcher; Nelson, catcher; Knight, first base; Drall, second base; Hoelt, third base; Dachelette and Host, shortstops; Selig, Wagner and Ira, fielders.

Stegeman Allows 3 Hits as Local Squad Downs Little Chute, 11 to 4

Playing a real brand of baseball from start to finish, the Beyer Sentinels, one of Appleton's leading semi-pro baseball teams, defeated the Little Chute crew Sunday afternoon at the Combined Locks park, by a 11 to 4 score. In the seventh inning, with the score 8 to 0 in favor of the locals, Ashman, star catcher, suffered a split finger and in the changes—in lineup which followed, Little Chute prevented a whitewash by scoring 4 times on three errors and a hit.

Stegeman, twirling for the locals, allowed three hits and sent 16 men to the bench via the strikeout route. The Sentinels combined 15 hits off the delivery of Van Steen. Schueller, slugged three hits for the winners and Vanderloop, two, both two-baggers. Kastke, Van Steen and R. Johnson, got the only hits for Little Chute.

Lineups:
Sentinels—Phillips, shortstop; Vanderloop, third base; Fernal, second base; Ansonage, centerfield; Schueller, first base; Adamson, catcher; Guertis, right and centerfield; Hillman, leftfield; Stegeman, pitcher; Bendt, rightfield; Courtney, shortstop; Fernal, rightfield.
Little Chute—Kastke, first base; Van Steen, pitcher; Wellhouse, catcher; R. Smith, second base; R. Johnson, shortstop; Gerrits, third base; DeFoe, first base; R. Hanson, centerfield; Mans, leftfield.

DODGERS EVEN SCORE WITH 4TH WARD CREW

Knocking Gelbke, Fourth ward hurler from the box in the fourth inning, the Appleton Dodgers evened the score with their south side opponents Sunday at the Fourth ward field by a 25 to 9 score. The Fourth warders had copped a week before and a third game to decide the winner may be played. Wilson, who followed Gelbke, also was unable to cope with the heavy sluggers of the Dodger crew. Jake Zussman, Lawrence colored star, held down the first sack in great style and got five hits, one a three-bagger with two men on. In six times up, Finske pitched a good game for the winners. Batteries: Dodgers—Finske and Douglas; Fourth ward—Gelbke, Wilson and Wilson.

COE COPS FIELD EVENTS TO LICK KNOX IN TRACK

Gakeburg—With Bill Senn carrying off first prize in the short dashes, and both relay teams victorious, Coach Earl Jackson of Knox College arrived here Sunday from Cedar Rapids, Iowa, where his track team was stopped by Coe College 72 to 64 in a Midwest Conference dual meet Saturday. Jackson was taking stock of his men available for use in the field events as Coe scored heavily in this part of the meet.

Winnipeg—Jack Reddick, Canadian light heavyweight and middleweight champion, defeated Carl Augustine, St. Paul light heavyweight in 22 rounds.

Mobile—Al Knowles, Pacific coast fighter, won a ten round bout with Young Wallace, New Orleans.

Walter Johnson Pitches 108th Shutout Victory

By Associated Press
New York—Walter Johnson, 38 year old hero in the rise of the Washington Americans to the world's championship show no signs of slipping in the nineteenth year as a major league pitcher.

Johnson Monday pitched his 108th shutout, the White Sox falling victim to his pitching skill which limited them to five scattered hits. Only two Chicago players were able to reach second base as the club went down to a 9 to 0 defeat.

Washington still trails the Philadelphia Athletics who maintained a comfortable lead on the champions by nosing out a 2 to 1 verdict over the Cleveland Indians.

The New York Yankees started off with promise in their winup of the four game series with St. Louis by counting three runs in the opening inning, but the advantage was soon wiped out as the Browns rained hits all over the park, rapping six New York pitchers for 17 hits to win by 19 to 10.

While the Browns were winning George Sisler hit safely in his 26th straight game.

The Boston Red Sox leap-frogged the Detroit Tigers back into the cellar by scoring a 7 to 4 victory in Detroit. Ray Schalk, veteran catcher of the White Sox, succeeded in the stunt of many major league players who have caught balls tossed from the Washington monument in the capitol by receiving a ball thrown from the tower of the Chicago Tribune building. The sphere traveled 460 feet at a speed of approximately two miles a minute.

Kimberly Holy Name School Whips Sacred Heart in Valley Parochial Circuit

Playing their second home game in the Fox River Valley Parochial School league, the Kimberly Holy Name team trimmed the Sacred Heart school team 10 to 7. The Appleton team lost the game on numerous errors, allowing the home team to bat around in three innings. In the fourth inning every home boy batted twice. Kimberly got 15 clean hits and 8 of the scratch variety.

Appleton scored five times in the first inning due to an injury to Victor Courchane. Kimberly's second baseman who was hit in the head with a batted ball and was on the sidelines. He returned to the game in the second inning and the home boys settled down.

The lineup:
Kimberly—Dupont, first base; Verbeten and Courchane, second base; De Witt, third base and pitcher; Vander Welden, shortstop; Swanke, leftfield; Doherty, centerfield; Derke, rightfield; Vander Zanden, pitcher; La Mar, catcher.

COOPER SETS NEW RECORD FOR TRACK

Charlotte, N. C.—A burst of speed in the last fifty miles, climaxing a persistent race from the start, won for Earl Cooper, veteran driver, the annual Confederate Memorial day 250 mile speedway race here Monday. Cooper who placed second in the inaugural event last year, made the distance in two hours, two minutes, and 55 seconds, an average of 121.6 miles an hour, setting a new track record.

The winner received $10,000 of the prize money, Harry Ransom, second place, getting $5,000 and Tommy Milton drawing $2,750 for third position.

Reggie Johnson suffered a broken collar bone when his machine struck the inner rail of the track and performed two somersaults.

RIPON TRACKMEN HOPE FOR TITLE

Knox and Coe Expected to Be Strongest Midwest Opponents of Red Squad

Ripon—Ripon must look to her laurels at St. Paul May 29 when the Midwest schools hook up in what promises to be a big record-breaking meet. All schools are pointing to ward the big event.

On paper Knox looms as Ripon's most dangerous opponent. By breaking records in four events the Galesburg school romped on Northwestern of Naperville, 95 to 26. Senn, Knox captain, set records in the 100 and 220, running the events in 10 flat and 21.7. Poole, a frosh, cleared the bar in the high jump at 6 feet 1 inch while Heath, another yearling hurled the javelin more than 175 feet.

Lawrence should not be sneered at this season, as the Blue walked off with a dual meet with Stevens Point by the overwhelming score of 118 to 18. Starr is proving to be the sensation of the Appleton track squad, clipping off the 100 and 220 in close to record time. Rehbein is again going strong in the middle distance runs, while McConnell is clearing the bar in the high jump at close to six feet. Hipke, husky weight man is looked to for many points.

Coach Denny thinks he has uncovered a dark horse in Sorenson, who runs the mile and two-mile and is expected to win both these events.

Other schools in the Midwest are also casting eyes at the title. With Gillespie, star weight man as their ace, Coe is banking to score heavily. Loftus, who is running the 440 in 50 flat, looks like the class of his event. Beloit, by the loss of a trio of stars—Thompson, McAuliffe and Adde—appears weaker than usual.

In view of the array of talent at other schools, Ripon can be given no more than an outside chance to repeat. Christopherson, Crimson captain, should come through with a first in the high in both the high jump and the high hurdles. Murray should push any dash men competing, and Eckert should show his heels to most of the 440 entrants. La Motte is good for points in the hurdles and jumps. Should the points in the weights and distance runs be sufficiently split up, Ripon has excellent chances on coming in with another championship, although the outlook is otherwise not so bright.

FOX RIVER SQUAD BEATS WAUPACA

Rally in Seventh Brings Locals from Behind to Win by 11 to 3 Score

Coming from behind in the seventh inning, the Fox River Paper Co. baseball team of this city scored five runs, including two circuit clouts and then battered in several more to beat the Waupaca-co. Boosters of Waupaca Sunday afternoon by a 11 to 3 score. The game was played in Appleton. A fast double play killed what threatened to be a Waupaca rally in the ninth.

The Papermakers infield played a great game stopping hard hit balls time after time. The outfielders played a fine fielding game and came through with the hits when they were needed. H. Turnow of the local crew let the visitors down with seven hits while the Papermakers garnered 14 off of Joe Mayeskie. Turnow struck out eight batters to his opponent's two. Baetz and H. Turnow clouted homers for Appleton and Gosh Klundt and Radtke got doubles. Klatt hit a double for the only extra baser for Waupaca. Klundt got three hits in four tries.

Challenges have been received from the Beyer Sentinels and Lawrence College All-Stars for city title tilts. Manager Baetz is planning on playing both teams on the same afternoon in the near future to settle the dispute. The college crew is composed of stars of the Interfraternity League.

GUESTS BROUGHT OWN SILVERWARE IN OLDEN TIMES

Old Documents and Letters

Reveal Curious Customs of Seventeenth Century

By Associated Press.
Liverpool—Letters and other documents dealing with manners and customs of daily life in the 17th century which came to light here tend to show that it was customary in those days for "persons of quality" to have sets of their own spoons, knives and forks which they took with them when invited out. These papers were of particular interest just at this time to collectors of antiques in connection with an addition made recently to the British museum. This was the earliest hall-marked table fork known, engraved with the crest of Manners and Montagu, 1632. About the same time a silver spoon of identical hall-mark and crest was taken to Haddon Hall.

Mention of such a set is made in the will of Mrs. Katherine Ridgeway, dated May 9, 1627, which was among the documents destroyed in a fire some time ago at the Four Courts, Dublin. The will says:
"I bequeath to the Right Honourable the Lord Chancellor my little silver of crystal bottles item. I gave and bequeath to my Ladye of Ellys my gilt spoon with the forks and penknife suitable to it." Mrs. Ridgeway was widow of George Ridgeway, secretary of the Irish council, and the Lord Chancellor was Adam Loftus, Lord Loftus of Ely.

Books on etiquette and table manners were far from being the prerogative of the Victorian age. It is revealed, as in 1663 there was published in London a book entitled "The Accomplish'd Lady's Rich Closet of Rarities," in which the following rules are laid down:

"A gentleman being at table abroad or at home must observe to keep her body straight, and lean not by any means upon her elbows—nor by ravenous desire discover a voracious appetite. Talk not when you have meat in your mouth; and do not smack like a pig—nor eat speenemout so hot that tears stand in your eyes."

"It is very uncourteous to drink so large a draught that your breath is almost gone, and you are forced to blow strongly to recover yourself. Throwing down your liquor as into a funnel is an action fitter for a juggler than a gentleman. In carrying at your own table distribute the best pieces first, and it will appear very decent and comely to use a fork; so touch no meat without it."

Reference to the fork was of particular interest to the museum authorities, for those present-day indispensable instruments had not then been long introduced, it appears.

Forks were first imported from Italy, and their use in England at the time was considered pedantic and laughable. One writer of the time speaks of a silver fork as "being used of late by some of our spruce gallants," which did not tend to make the fork popular at all among certain sets.

MENTAL TESTS GROUP PUPILS OF SAME SPEED

Students Submit to Examinations Which Determine Mental Capacity

Every student of Appleton high school was given an intelligence test at the 9:20 assembly period Monday morning. This is the first time seniors were given the Otis S. A. tests for mental ability.

It has been the policy for two years in Appleton high school to group the students in classes according to their ability. This theory, which has been accepted more widely than it has been put into practice, assures teachers of classes which can progress at an average rate of speed, without hindering brilliant students or overworking those of lower mental capacity.

Encouraged by the strong interest in secondary education laws, a large number of students with lower mental ability have recently come into the schools. Their presence has increased the problem of adapting education to the needs of the individual. A few years ago most of these who were un-fitted mentally for strong academic work either did not enter high school at all or were soon weeded out. The good teachers adapted their work to the best students so that the best received education up to their abilities.

The greatly increased enrollment of students of lower ability and the interest in education for the individual have forced a new situation on the high school. Lee C. Rasey, principal of high school, does not believe that it is fair to hold brilliant students down to the pace set by their less fortunate comrades and thus lower the standard of education for them. Neither is it right, he says, to neglect the slower pupil, teach over his head and waste his time.

The intelligence tests provide accurate means of grouping students according to their ability. Together with the results of these tests, the records and estimates of the individual teachers are used, and the resulting schedule of classes of homogeneous students is free of almost all error. If there is a mistake, the plan is elastic enough to admit of immediate change.

Mr. Rasey has devoted several weeks each summer to working out of these schedules of classes, with the information he has acquired during the school year. In the opening day of school, therefore, there was little confusion, and little necessity of changing the grouping of the first day of work.

BUILD SEVEN MILES OF PAVEMENT ON ROUTE 17

More than seven miles of pavement will be added to Highway 17 from the present end of the concrete in Sheboygan-co to the county line. It was disclosed when the county highway commission took options on the land necessary for this extension. A price of $200 per acre will be paid for the ground actually taken, and 25 cents a rod for moving the fences.

The state highway commission ordered that a 6-foot roadway be built. The width of the highway at present is three rods, and the demands of the state commission make it necessary to move fences back from eight to ten feet. In some places it is said, the present roadway is not three rods wide as specified in the plans, but the purchases made were based on that width. The concrete will be 25 feet wide, with a 5-foot shoulder on each side.

INVITE GUESTS TO DEDICATION

Mayor Goodland Prepares List of Notables to Be Asked to Bridge Ceremony

With the exception of issuing invitations, preparations for dedication of Cherry-st bridge on May 21 have been practically completed. Invitations probably will be prepared in a few days. Hugh Corbett, secretary of the Appleton Chamber of Commerce, is general chairman of the committee in charge of the occasion, and with the assistance of Mayor John Goodland Jr., and the other members of the committee on invitations will make up the list of guests.

Mr. Corbett has requested the mayor's suggestion as to whom they shall invite, and the mayor has made up a tentative list that includes the Outagamie and Winnebago-co boards and highway commissions, Neenah, Menasha, Little Chute and Kaukauna city councils; state highway commission, aldermen who were in the common council here when the bridge plans were adopted, and former Mayor Henry Reuter.

which will be hearings of claims against estates, two hearings of petitions for administration, two hearings of final accounts; one hearing of proof of a will and one hearing on account of the administratrix. The calendar was called at 10 o'clock Tuesday morning.

The calendar: Hearings of petitions for administration of the estates of Ida Witt and John L. McGillan; hearing of proof of Michael Brantigan will; hearing of claims against the estates of Arnold and Joanna Strick, Minnie Schaumburg, Peter Vosbeck, Eliza Millard and Edward Spaack; hearing of final accounts in settlement of the estates of Joseph Heckel and Daniel J. Ryan, and hearing on account of administratrix of the estate of Ernest B. Ralph.

College Scribes Honor Lawrence At Conference

From the standpoint of Lawrence, this year's annual convention of the Wisconsin Intercollegiate Press Association, held last week at Prairie du Chien, was highly successful. Not only did the Lawrentian receive second place in the newspaper competition, but both Lawrence delegates were elected to important offices.

Harold Hamilton, Merrillan, business manager of the Lawrentian, and Mary Bennett, Randolph, editor of the college weekly, were elected chairman and secretary of the convention. Miss Bennett also was elected president of the association for the coming year. Other officers elected were Margaret McGilivray of St. Mary college, vice-president; James Foley, Marquette university, secretary; Marvin Boese, Carroll college, treasurer.

The keynote of the convention was sounded by the Rev. Father Bernes of Campion college. Other speeches were by Walter Belson of the Marquette Tribune on the difficulties of the college newspaper editor; W. G. Bleyer, head of the department of journalism of the University of Wisconsin, on the value of the college paper as preparation for outside journalism; and G. Vaux Bacon, former editor of the Rotarian, on the press agent's phase of journalism.

Next year's convention will be held in Milwaukee in conjunction with Marquette university. The time will be decided by the officers.

COMPANY D TO HAVE INDOOR GUN RANGE

A new indoor range is being constructed in the basement of Armory #1 for rifle and pistol practice by members of Co. D of the 127th machine gun regiment, and as soon as this is completed the local militiamen will start their indoor range work. The new range is expected to be ready within two weeks. It will permit firing at a range up to 75 feet, but most of the firing will be done at 60 feet, according to Captain E. F. Grundeman.

All inside range firing will be in preparation for outdoor range work. Captain Grundeman stated. This is expected to start late this month or early in June, when the weather permits. No outside drill is planned for the local company this year.

RURAL TEACHERS MUST HAVE COUNTY PERMITS

Word has been sent out to all school clerks of the county by A. G. Meating, county superintendent of schools, announcing that it will be necessary for them to see that all applicants for teachers positions have certificates issued in Outagamie-co. This step is necessary because of the number of inexperienced teachers from other counties seeking the jobs, Mr. Meating said. At present the county is flooded with inexperienced applicants from all over the state and the rural schools must give preference to residents of Outagamie-co. Mr. Meating declared.

Simple Way to Get Rid of Blackheads

There is one simple, safe and sure way that never fails to get rid of blackheads, that is to dissolve them. To do this get two ounces of calomel powder from any drug store—sprinkle a little on a hot, wet cloth—rub over the blackheads briskly—wash the parts and you will be surprised how the blackheads have disappeared. Big blackheads, little blackheads, no matter where they are, simply dissolve and disappear; blackheads are simply a mixture of dust and dirt and secretions that form in the pores of the skin. The calomel powder and the water dissolve the blackheads so they wash right out, leaving the pores free and clean and in their natural condition.

Shop

The first room at the right, as one enters the new Beauty Salon, is the Barber Shop. Mr. Smith is an expert barber. All sorts of hair bobbing are being done all the time. Mothers like to bring the children to Mr. Smith, too.

Next to the service, the nicest thing about the hair bobbing shop is that one seldom has to wait. Appointments can be made by phone.

After an ultra-smart new bob—there is a shampoo room right across from the barber shop where an expert awaits you.

At Pettibone's, shampoos are given in the newest and most sanitary way. If you desire, your attendant expert will prescribe the type of shampoo you most need. The method in which it is given will be a positive revelation.

With the hair freshly shampooed—and perhaps a special scalp treatment, if you feel it is needed, one often wants ones hair especially dressed for a party.

Special French curls and the new wax marcell are numbered among the smart ways of treating bobbed hair in a different manner. The new evening coiffure for bobbed hair will be shown you if you like.

Facial treatments are a specialty at Pettibone's. Appleton's most elaborate electrical equipment has been installed, and there are the most comfortable facial chairs you have ever used.

A facial treatment is as good as many hours of sleep, if it is properly given. After a particularly wearisome day or night, ask for an appointment.

Manicuring is another service that is rendered with extra art in the Beauty Salon.

The beautifully appointed manicure tables are in the main room of the Salon. After your first manicure here, you will understand how much added service one receives in Pettibone's Beauty Salon.
